5 Negro Pickets Injured In Row

AMERICUS, Ga. (AP) — Five Negroes were injured when white men attacked demonstrators in this southeast Georgia town Saturday shortly before funeral services for a white man shot down on a street corner Wednesday night.

About 500 persons attended the services for Andrew A. Whatley, 21, in the First Baptist Church. The minister said Americus is a community as divided as "a room full of unruly children."

Whatley, a Marine Corps enlistee of one week, was killed by shots fired from a passing car. Two Negroes have been charged with murder.

Shortly after the funeral, Negro and white demonstrators marched to the Sumter County Courthouse. They were escorted by state troopers.

As the demonstrators marched, troopers escorted a pistol-toting white bystander away from the area and stopped another as he walked toward the group at the courthouse.

"Who are you going to shoot next?" one white man yelled at the marchers.

Following the march on the courthouse, Willie Bolden of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference said there would be no cooling-off period as suggested by Mayor Walker earlier.

"If they can't protect the citizens of Americus, Ga.," Bolden said, "then I think it's time we got somebody who can protect somebody."

He urged Negroes to stop trading with white merchants and said integration attempts will be made at white churches Sunday.

Earlier in the day, five Negroes were struck, one by a snub-nosed revolver, as about 30 white men broke up a demonstration by an equal number of Negroes.

One of the five, Denny LeNow, 21, a civil rights worker from Wisconsin, was treated for head cuts caused by the pistol blow.

The other four were less seriously hurt. None of the five was admitted to the hospital.

A witness said several Negroes were slugged with fists during the outbreak, broken up by state troopers.

The incident came at a supermarket where Negroes had gathered in a picketing attempt.

Earlier, Negroes picketed white merchants as police patrolled downtown.

The pickets took to the streets as Negro leaders renewed demands that a biracial committee be called into immediate session. The Negro leaders said demonstrations would halt as long as the committee met.

But Mayor T. Griffin Walker, appealing for a cooling off period, said he would not call such a session until demonstrations ended.

A transcript of the hearing on segregation, sponsored by the West Side Federation, was to be sent to Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., Powell conducted recent hearings in Washington on alleged de facto segregation in Chicago's public schools.

Raby, convener of the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, a federation of civil rights groups, told the hearing that he has found "no effort of the Board of Education to integrate the schools."

And he said gerrymandered school districts had turned one West Side high school — Marshall — into an all-Negro school. The hearing was held in the First Congregational Church on the near West Side.

Union President I. W. Abel and chief industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper said there was

U.S., Viet Bombers Hit Munitions Dump

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. and Vietnamese planes dumped 20 tons of bombs Saturday night on a North Vietnamese ammunition dump, inflicting heavy damage, a U.S. spokesman reported Sunday.

The four American F104 jets and 10 Vietnamese propeller-driven Skyraiders left the buildings at Xom Rung, 75 miles northwest of the border, either destroyed or extensively damaged, the spokesman said.

The raid highlighted an evening of steady air activity against North Viet Nam. The spokesman described the other flights as routine reconnaissance missions in which the pilots searched for military traffic heading south.

He refused to speculate if she was strangled also, and withheld a formal inquest verdict for at least another week to give time for more pathological tests.

Dellana said it was impossible to determine if the women had been raped, because of the decomposed condition of the bodies.

Meanwhile at Chapel Hill, police sought a young Negro for questioning in the stabbing death of Suellen Evans, 21, a home economics student, on the campus of the University of North Carolina.

Bodies of the two Texas sorority sisters, who vanished July 18, were found Friday lying on their backs, near nude, in a weed choked vacant field of north Austin.

They were last seen driving Miss Stark's yellow sports car near the University of Texas campus, about eight miles from the spot where the bodies were found.

Miss Rigsby was to have entered summer school. Miss Stark was a June graduate. Some of the girls' clothes were found July 20 in a roadside ditch about six-tenths of a mile from the death scene.

On July 21 the car, dusty but undamaged, was found abandoned, parked back of an apartment house near the university.

The crucial issue is the number of engineers aboard automated ships. The operators want the number frozen at the present five, the union opposes.

The proposal Wirtz advanced, and to which the union agreed, called for AFL-CIO President George Meany to undertake an over-all basis to establish procedures for resolving all manning and related dispute on automated ships.

During the six months allotted for this task, the union would return its men to work.

The strike, begun by the engineers June 16, has tied up some 100 ships on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

The AFL-CIO International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots and the AFL-CIO American Radio Association struck a week later.

Government mediators feel, however, that the key to getting the ships back into trade is a settlement of the dispute between the marine engineers and the operators.

J. M. Calhoun, president of the engineers, announced the union's acceptance of the plan, and elaborated the operators for turning it down.

Ralph E. Casey, president of the institute, advanced two objections:

1. He said the operators, to assure stability in the industry, need assurance there will be no strike during the four years of the proposed agreement, rather than for six months.

2. The question of federal operating subsidies must be ironed out in advance of a final settlement. Otherwise, he said, the operators might be put in an "impossible position" of substantially increased costs without offsetting subsidies.

Washington (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities is trying to prepare a detailed record on the Ku Klux Klan, a record the committee hopes will form the basis for federal law to control the Klan.

As a result, the committee now is rounding out a fourth month of preliminary investigation of the various Klan groups with no firm idea yet when it will hold open hearings.

Staff investigations have been engaged in field work since April and prospective witnesses have been brought to Washington to be questioned in secret.

Pervading the operation is an air of secrecy suggestive of a CIA or FBI operation.

Officers Have Few Clues In Slayings

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—State and local officers had few answers Saturday to a long list of baffling questions as the search spread for an unknown stranger in the slayings of two campus beauties.

Crime detection experts said, after a six and one-half hour autopsy, that Susan Rigsby, 21, of Dallas died of strangulation, with a faint mark or band left around her neck. They were unable to say if a pair of hands or possibly a piece of cloth caused her death.

The cause of death for Shirley Ann Stark also 21 and from Dallas is "inconclusive" at the present time, said Justice of Peace Jerry Dellana, who is conducting the inquest.

He refused to speculate if she was strangled also, and withheld a formal inquest verdict for at least another week to give time for more pathological tests.

Dellana said it was impossible to determine if the women had been raped, because of the decomposed condition of the bodies.

LBJ Meets With Top Officials

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson weighed the prospects for peace and the problems of war Saturday with Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

After a round of telephone conferences, Johnson summoned Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, to his LBJ ranch to talk about Viet Nam and the whole range of responsibilities facing the new ambassador.

Assistant White House Press Secretary Joseph Laitin said Johnson talked with McNamara about deployment of the 50,000 more U.S. troops he has ordered sent there immediately to join the struggle against Communist guerrillas.

"They were... discussing the general Viet Nam situation and the deployment of troops," Laitin said. He said their talk was a long one.

Johnson also talked with Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Their conversation, too, dealt in part with Viet Nam, Laitin said.

The President invited Goldberg to come to the ranch with his wife, Dorothy, and son, Robert, 24.

Laitin said Johnson and Goldberg certainly would discuss the pledge of Secretary-General U. Thant to continue U.N. efforts to promote peace in Viet Nam.

Johnson and U Thant exchanged letters on that topic Wednesday and Thursday.

Johnson also got a staff report on world press reaction to his announcement Wednesday that the United States would step up its military commitment in South Viet Nam, and at the same time continue to seek a peaceful settlement.

"In general," Laitin said, "it reflected satisfaction with the President's statement."

Texas Gov. John Connally, who flew to Austin with the President Friday, told him again that the nation's governors were solidly behind him after a Thursday briefing on Viet Nam.

"The governor felt that the reaction was unanimously good," Laitin said.

"The President has had a rather busy morning," Laitin reported. Then he ticked off a list of aides and officials with whom Johnson talked about domestic and foreign affairs.

The President was up at 6 a.m., he said, and went for a swim with Mrs. Johnson in their heated pool.

Among the aides he talked with later was George E. Reedy, his ailing former press secretary Reedy, who faces surgery for a foot condition, left the press office July 8.

The White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers, in Washington, told the President, congressmen had been moved by his journey Friday to Independence, Mo., to sign his Medicare bill in the presence of former President Harry S. Truman.

"Reaction on the bill appeared to be very, very good," Laitin said.

Johnson has signed an executive order on enforcement of the International Convention for Safety of Life at Sea, which took effect May 26.

This view is extremely ridiculous.

Red China Blasts Soviet's Stand

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China accused the Soviet Union Saturday of giving soft-glove treatment to U.S. military action in Viet Nam and took a strong stand against the Soviet "line of compromise and capitulation."

A lengthy article in the People's Daily, signed by "Observer" and broadcast by Peking Radio, charged that "Nikita Khrushchev revisionists" were looking for excuses to "work hand in glove with U.S. imperialism in order to push the scheme for 'peace talks' on Viet Nam."

Commenting on the leftist World Congress of Peace in Helsinki, Finland, earlier this month, the article said Soviet delegates "did go to some lengths to profess their opposition to U.S. imperialism." But, it added, the Russians "were in league with some American delegates" to promote Viet Nam peace talks.

The People's Daily writer said "two opposite lines have existed for a long time in the world peace movement. These two lines are diametrically opposed...and are irreconcilable."

The broadcast did not identify the "Observer" but this signature often is used by a high-ranking Chinese Communist official with something to say. Some say Mao Tse-tung has used it himself at times.

The article said the line advocated by Communist China "is to isolate U.S. imperialism...to the maximum, a line of ceaselessly dealing blows at and weakening the imperialist forces of aggression."

The other line, the "Observer" said, "confuses friend from foe, compromises with U.S. imperialism, encourages the imperialist forces of aggression, increases the danger of war and brings harm to world peace."

The article said the latter line was supported by Khrushchev in the past and continued by present Soviet leaders.

Korneichuk, leader of the Soviet delegation to the Helsinki peace congress, of boiling down the Viet Nam struggle to a question of "peaceful coexistence."

This view is extremely ridiculous.

DRIVING THE SUPERROADS

THE GRAND ENTRY
In most cases, you will enter the Interstate Highway from a long acceleration lane. Avoid stopping in this lane. Instead, (1) Judge the speed of highway traffic; (2) Pick a gap in the line of cars; (3) Accelerate into this gap so that when you merge, you'll be traveling at about the same speed as other traffic.

DON'T BE PART OF A SPECTACULAR
Those "spectacular multi-car collisions" you hear about happen when cars get bunched together and drivers can't react quickly enough to sudden stopping of cars ahead. Avoid this kind of chain-reaction pile-up by keeping proper interval. At expressway speeds, use two car lengths interval for each ten miles per hour. If another driver cuts in front of you, slow until you regain this interval.

CHANGING LANES AND PASSING
Always signal your intention to move into another lane. Check your rear view mirrors and your "blind spot." Never change lanes abruptly. After passing a car, wait until you can see the car you've passed in your inside rear view mirror. Then signal and merge back into the right lane.

NO LOAFING, PLEASE
Some experts on expressway driving recommend that under normal conditions, you should travel no slower than five miles per hour under the posted maximum. At any rate, don't loaf. You'll cause other drivers to bunch up.

THE INVISIBLE CAR
In this illustration, the rear car cannot be seen by the driver of the front car. Try to stay out of the other fellow's "blind spot." If you can't, be especially alert to his actions. Remember, he can't see you. Incidentally, the driver of the front car will be less likely to cause trouble if he uses outside rear view mirrors.

GETTING OFF WITHOUT A HITCH
Know the name and the route number of your exit and the one before yours. Look for these signs well in advance so you'll have time to ease over into the proper lane. If you see that you're going to miss your exit, go ahead and miss it rather than risk the danger of slowing suddenly or changing lanes abruptly. Once you're in the deceleration lane, slow down more than you think is necessary if the speed limit is not posted. Miles of expressway driving can cause you to seriously misjudge your speed.

FATIGUE AND MONOTONY
There is a tendency to become bored and drowsy after an uninterrupted period of expressway driving. Here are several ways to fight this "highway hypnosis."
Don't plan to drive for more than 8 hours in any one day. Stop for a ten-minute break every two hours or so. Drink plenty of water, orange juice, lemonade. Eat lightly. If you become drowsy, change your posture and let lots of fresh air into the car. Talk or sing, or turn the radio up loud. Vary your speed for short intervals if traffic permits. If none of these tricks work, get off at rest stop or interchange and take a nap followed by a brisk walk.

EMERGENCY STOPS
Never stop on the pavement. In case of trouble, signal and move off the road, stopping well on the right shoulder. Place a white handkerchief on the left door handle and raise your hood. All passengers should get out of the car and stay on the side away from traffic.
Emergency stops at night are especially hazardous. Most states require you to leave your parking lights on. Experts also recommend that you turn on your interior lights. Do not, however, use your turn signals as an emergency signal. Flares or suitable electric flares placed several hundred feet behind your car are your best nighttime protection.

HOW TO HANDLE TAILGATERS
Don't lose your temper! Encourage the tail-gater to pass you by gradually reducing your speed. Or, if you're driving below the speed limit, you may be able to pull away from him. In any case, avoid any sudden action which might startle him into a more dangerous act.

THOSE TURN SLOTS ARE NOT FOR "U"
Unless otherwise marked, the law prohibits a "U" turn across the median strip. But if you miss an exit, it's sometimes tempting to sneak across. Nothing could be more dangerous. The car that is turning in this illustration has been lucky enough to make it into the turn slot. Now, he'll have to enter a "fast" lane from a standing start, providing a perfect target for oncoming traffic.

The new, 41,000-mile system of interstate superhighways demands some special knowledge to make the most of its advantages over conventional highways. Tips on driving techniques such as compiled here by the State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Co. make for safer as well as more convenient travel on the new road network destined eventually to accommodate more than 20 per cent of the nation's traffic.

Sielschott Reunion Held

The annual Sielschott reunion was held July 18 in the dining hall at Nichols Park. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Myrta Sielschott, preceding a basket dinner. Forty-two family members and four guests were present.

The president, Mrs. Gerald Sielschott, conducted the business meeting and incumbent officers were re-elected for another year.

They are Mrs. Gerald Sielschott, president and Mrs. Wilbur Westermeyer, secretary-treasurer. The 1966 reunion will be held on the third Sunday in July at Nichols Park. Recorded were: two deaths, those of Donald Sielschott and Mrs. Gertrude Sielschott; one wedding: Richard Ruppel and Alice Stokes and five births: a son, Eric, to Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Meyer; a son, William, to Mr. and Mrs. William Earl Sielschott; a son, Michael, to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Paul; a son Gary, to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Westermeyer; and a daughter, Sonya, to Mr. and Mrs. Harlin Summers. Mrs. Lydia Balke was the oldest member present and Sonya Kay Summers was the youngest. Attending were: Mrs. Myrta Sielschott, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Sielschott, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Sielschott, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kramer and David of Kilbourne; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Sielschott of Easton; Mr. and Mrs. William Sielschott and Sheryl, Karl Cooney and Mrs. Cooney of Litchfield; Mrs. Martha Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Harlin Summers and Sonya Kay of Jacksonville.

Frieda, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lawless, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Summers, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Balke and Donna, Mrs. Amelia Baird and Mrs. Mary Copley of Winchester; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Westermeyer and Kenneth, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Westermeyer and Gary of Bluffs.

Meadow mice reproduce at a rapid rate. One pair of meadow mice may have as many as 17 litters a year, each averaging 5 young. And if all the mice from this pair survived and reproduced to maximum capacity, there would be a grand total of more than 1 million within a year's time.

Matter of Fact

The diesel engine was invented by Rudolf Diesel, a German engineer in 1897. The success of this first 25-horsepower four-stroke single cylinder vertical oil engine attracted great attention, but it was not the first compression-ignition engine ever to be constructed. In 1890 Akroyd Stuart had patented an oil engine which worked at low pressures.

Wins Beard Trophy

DON MARR

NEW BERLIN — Winner of the most outstanding beard trophy, New Berlin Centennial Day, July 25, was Don Marr, who had not shaved or cut his hair since January 1st.

If a sweepstakes winner had been declared for the New Berlin Centennial Day, the Marr-Clark family would certainly have been the winner. The four-generation family was entered in most of the divisions and carried off many of the coveted engraved trophies. Whiskered seventy-eight year old Will Marr, who began farming in the area over 53 years ago, his wife Louise were award winners as were their son Woodrow and his wife Marjorie, daughter Sybil's husband Horace Clark; their grandsons Don Marr, Larry and Richard Clark; their great-grandchildren Rick Clark, with little Jodi and Traci Marr participating.

STORY HOUR AT ROODHOUSE ENDS WITH PARTY

ROODHOUSE — Fifty-one children attended the party given Wednesday at the conclusion of the weekly story hour held at the Roodhouse Public Library. Mrs. Grover Wallace served as reader each Wednesday afternoon during the month of July.

Representing the Roodhouse-White Hall Junior Woman's club were Mrs. Ludwig Dech, Mrs. Gene Barnett and Mrs. Beverly Shaw. Ice cream was served to the children and favors were presented to the youngsters by the librarian, Mrs. Edna McIver. The party was held in the park across from the library.

OVERDUE, OVERWEIGHT

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Chief Sheriff Jack Knudson had to wait eight months to collect an election bet. And when payment came, it was not only overdue but overweight.

Back last November the deputy bet Al Piersch a pair of steak dinners that a majority of incumbents running for re-election would lose.

Knudson won. But he couldn't collect.

Eight months later Piersch wheeled the payoff into the Douglas County Courthouse office.

In the grocery cart was a 70-pound calf on the hoof, plus all the other ingredients of a pair of steak dinners.

New Berlin Turns Back Calendar For Centennial

NEW BERLIN — Anyone going through New Berlin Sunday would have thought the calendar had been turned back one century — for indeed they had, just for New Berlin Centennial Day. Bearded gentlemen with colorful vests, top hats and many with decorative canes, escorted their hoop-skirted ladies and similarly dressed youngsters through the flag-flanked downtown streets, several riding in horse-drawn antique bugies.

New Berlin Centennial Day got underway at 1 p.m. with the parade leaving the high school and circling through the village to the Sangamon County fairgrounds. Several hundred people participated in the parade with many more lining the parade route.

Legion Leads Parade
The West Sangamon American Legion Post 743 of New Berlin led the parade, bearing the colors, and behind them was the antique fire engine from Pleasant Hill carrying Mayor McCullough with the other New Berlin Village Board members. Following them was the New Berlin High School marching band led by student director Willard Summers. Centennial Queen Stephanie Jacobs, lovely in a pastel pink period dress and carrying an armload of red roses, rode atop a shiny convertible. Over seventy other vehicles and groups followed in the parade complete with callophoe.

The large crowd gathered at the open air pavilion on the fairgrounds with the Centennial observance program beginning at 2 o'clock, with co-chairman Dr. Glen H. Wichterman and Mayor John A. McCullough in charge. T. T. Wilson and Fred Breeding, with matching white goatees, ushered the large crowd. Pegwill Pete, master of Another unscheduled highlight was the "Happy Birthday" sung by the crowd to 84-year young Mrs. Pearl Grandjean Carriger who was entered in the Belle and Bonnet contest with her twin daughters, Mrs. Tess Walter and Mrs. Bess Chandler.

Award Winners
All entries in the five classes of the parade received commemorative ribbons, and trophies were awarded to the top winners:
GENERAL: Mr. and Mrs. James Luken of Alexander on a bicycle built for two; youngsters Laurie and David Thompson of Elkhart.

AGRICULTURAL AND COMMERICAL: The U & L Grain Company of New Berlin with a covered wagon driven by Charles Ater from Arenzville; the Huey Lumber Co. of Arenzville log cabin float; the 1937 Case tractor ridden by its original and present owner, Holland Archer.

FLOATS: St. John's Lutheran Church float driven by bearded Bob Kominick; the American Legion Auxiliary floral float carried by twins Mrs. Tess Walter and Mrs. Bess Chandler followed by costumed auxiliary members; the Lick Creek 4-H "Good Ship Lollipop" driven by John Jacobs of Loomis.

ANTIQUE AUTOS: Marion Hoffman of Springfield; Terry Romack of Jerry's Automotive Service, Springfield; Jenny Theiss of Jacksonville's Antique Auto Club; Raymond Gitt of Jacksonville; and Donald Kirk of Champaign. Smaller trophies went to each of the other 25 participants.

Frank Sommer was chairman of the parade committee, with Earl Chandler serving as parade marshal. Judges for the parade were Tom Sapp of Springfield, Ann Poynter and Dee Tobias of Athens. Trophies were awarded in ten categories in the Belle and Bonnet contest with Mrs. Horace Clark and Mrs. Elmer Roesch serving as co-chairmen. Judges were Glenn Farrington and Paul Leake of Springfield, and Janet Seymour of Saint Louis.

Beard Trophies
The interesting Beard and Mustache contest awarded trophies in ten divisions also. Theo Knust was chairman of this division and his flowing white beard dates back to the date New Berlin won the county tournament January 22. Judge was Dr. Elmer Beades of Ashland.

Dan Curtis, Fire Chief of the New Berlin Fire Department, invited everyone to the firemen's picnic and weekend festivities, August 7-8, which will conclude the New Berlin Centennial observance. The Village Charter was signed on August 12, 1865. The planned activities include an outdoor fish fry with roasting ears, dancing in the evening and an old-fashioned basket dinner and get-together on Sunday.

Not until after this event will the luxurious beards and sweeping-skirted dresses disappear from the New Berlin scene.

MINIATURE TRACTOR

Cass Man's Hobby Great
Source Of Accomplishment

VIRGINIA — All day Thursday, in a window at the City Hall in Virginia, there was on display a small replica of a 1915 model of a J. I. Case steam tractor. This was built by Thomas W. Johnston, of Virginia, from blueprints. Before retiring, he was for many years a teacher of Industrial Arts in many of our best colleges.

Materials used in this model consisted of iron and bronze castings, sheet brass and steel, iron and stainless steel rod copper and brass tubing and numerous brass bolts, rivets, etc.

Boiler hydraulic test 100 lbs., steam test 60 lbs. Engine will run on 10 lbs. steam. Total parts 1453. Built with use of metal lathe, drill and hand tools.

This replica was built to scale 1 inch equals 1 foot of J. I. Case steam tractor, 1915 model. It is a live 65 horse power steam engine.

Mr. Johnston says people under 65 years who work in business, industry, or other vocations, who are forced to retire at 65 years, should give thought of what to do with leisure time at retirement. Aside from the fact that this project of building a model steam tractor engine, used up about one and one-half years' leisure time and over 1400 parts were used, it gave the builder much satisfaction in renewing old, sleeping skills and a good test of patience. Mr. Johnston feels sure all people should prepare ahead of retirement age for the use of leisure time.

Mr. Johnston says, "If you want peace of mind and the pursuit of happiness, get a Hobby, or several of them to improve your mind and soul in your senior years."

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP)—The butcher hog supply last week again was the smallest in almost four years but it failed to impart any strength to the market. Prices were mostly steady.

Buyers noted that hog slaughter last week was the smallest for any non-holiday week in seven years and said that demand had not been more than moderately active even for the scant offerings. On three days, the run amounted to only 3,500 head.

After topping at $25.25 on Monday, the peak price fell to $24.75 on two days and finished at $25 on Friday. The average price for the week was estimated at $24.43 compared with $24.70 a week ago and $16.57 a year ago.

The gain of 25 to 75 cents a hundredweight for slaughter steers was the first weekly advance in six weeks. Buyers credited the reversal to daily advances for dressed beef at wholesale outlets and to slightly smaller supplies both here and at the 12 major markets.

The average price for the week climbed to $26.80, up 26 cents from last week. It compared with $23.25 a year ago. Spring slaughter lambs were steady to 50 cents higher.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rallied sharply last week as President Johnson disclosed his plans for the military buildup for Viet Nam.

The market reacted to Johnson's recommendation with considerable relief that no harsher methods — both economic and military — were proposed.

At the same time, Wall Street took cognizance of the boosted draft quotas and the certainty that considerably more money would be spent on defense, even though the President did not mention specific sums.

The stock rally last week also brought to an end trading for July. The week's gain was enough to give the month a net gain as well.

It was the best performance in a month for both the stock averages and the volume totals. The Associated Press average of 80 stocks rose 7.2 to 326.3, its largest gain since the week ended July 3 when it rose 8.3. The Dow Jones industrial average rose 17.77 to 881.74, its biggest jump since the July 3 week when it gained 20.80.

Volume of 22,713,520 was the heaviest since 33,860,195 shares were traded in the week ended July 3.

For the month of July the AP average rose 7.9 and the Dow Jones average 13.71.

President Johnson's report to the nation at midday on Wednesday was followed by a rally which was to continue with increasing vigor on Thursday and Friday.

A parade of record quarterly earnings for leading corporations also helped to promote confidence in the stock market.

The 34 per cent rise in earnings for U.S. Steel and a nice gain for Bethlehem typified results.

Rails, however, were the real heroes of the Big Board as they took a pacemaking role along with steels and other industrials in the second half of the week.

U.S. Treasury bonds fell slightly amid announced terms of $7.3 billion refunding by the Treasury Department. Corporate bonds closed the week mostly unchanged.

Fred Allen, 84, Found Dead In Greene County

CARROLLTON — Fred Allen, 84, who had been visiting a daughter, Mrs. Lester Patton of rural Patterson, was found dead in the Patton yard Friday afternoon, an apparent suicide victim.

Greene County Coroner William H. Wolfe, who investigated the death, said the elderly man died of gunshot wounds. A shotgun and a note were found near the body. A plunger device, rigged from a tree limb, had apparently been used to trigger the gun.

Coroner Wolfe said Allen, a former resident of the Patterson-Hillview area, had been living with various relatives and had arrived at the Patton home Thursday. The family was away when the shooting occurred and the body was discovered by a neighbor. Allen was pronounced dead on the scene. An inquest has been scheduled.

He was born in Greene County Dec. 29, 1880, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen. His wife, the former Nellie Rollins, died in 1936.

Mr. Allen is survived by nine children: Robert and Morris, both of Carrollton; Frank of White Hall, Harry of Hillview, Harvey of Farmington, Lloyd of Roseland, Fla., Mrs. Leo Dunlap of White Hall, Mrs. Arthur Cox of Hillview and Mrs. Patton. Also surviving are 25 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

One son preceded him in death.

The body was taken to the Simpson Funeral Home at Carrollton where friends may call after 4 p.m. today.

Services are scheduled at the funeral home at 3 p.m. Monday. Burial will be in Richwoods cemetery.

Imperial Wizard Of KKK May Pay Indiana Visit

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — The Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan said Saturday that he may have to take time out from his "tight schedule" to show the Hancock County, Ind., sheriff "what horseplay really is."

Robert M. Shelton Jr., the Imperial Wizard, said Sheriff Edwin Kirkpatrick "is really asking for it." And said he might pay Greenfield, Ind., a visit.

Shelton, here to lead a Klan rally, referred to the arrest Friday of Claude Parnell, 61, an Indianapolis industrial plant security guard, who was charged with violating Indiana's 1947 "racetracking in hatred" law.

Parnell was released from jail Saturday after posting $2,000 bond.

He was charged in the distribution of the Klan newspaper, the Fiery Cross, in Greenfield.

Detective Sgt. John Petty of the state police said Parnell admitted servicing a Greenfield postoffice box for the Klan but said he was not a member of the group.

Parnell was the fifth person arrested by Hancock County authorities for dissemination of anti-Negro literature. Four members of another white supremacy organization were arrested Thursday in connection with the distribution of the tabloid, the Thunderbolt, for the National States Rights Party.

Shelton said he had instructed an Indianapolis bonding company to arrange for Parnell's release.

"They (officials) say our members have been arrested for distributing hate literature," he said. "Have they got some kind of double standard? Beatniks, and known Communists get away with distributing their materials while white Christians get arrested."

Shelton added: "I have a tight schedule, but if it's necessary I'll be down there to get the definition and reasoning behind the arrests."

Shelton said Kirkpatrick "is really asking for it. If he wants that kind of horseplay, we'll give it to him. We'll come to Greenfield and show the sheriff what horseplay really is."

Two cover burnings have been reported in the area, one on a school lawn and the other on a vacant lot near Fountainview in nearby Shelby County.

Shelton said "there will be more if this sort of thing continues."

Shelton said he would come to this community of 9,000 just east of Indianapolis, where only one Negro family lives, but denied rumors he is planning a Klan protest march.

U.S., Viet Planes Hit AmmoDumps

In an interview with a Vietnamese newspaper, Ky said increases in the armed forces would be made in the near future but, for security reasons, gave no figures.

"Every spot in this country may be the battlefield," he warned.

As Ky spoke, the ground war was at a lull, with only scattered clashes. The main activity was the steady pounding of Communist targets in North and South Viet Nam by U.S. and Vietnamese warplanes.

In the heaviest strike against the North, 11 Navy A4 Skyhawks, supported by four F4 Phantom jets, dropped seven tons of bombs on the Vinh army barracks 160 miles south of Hanoi. The planes, from the USS Midway, heavily damaged four buildings and hit five others, a U.S. spokesman said.

He gave these other details: Four U.S. Navy Skyhawks from the carrier Independence hit a transportation terminal 60 miles south of Hanoi, setting fires, hitting a warehouse and derailing two railway cars.

U.S. and Vietnamese planes flew more than 500 sorties in South Viet Nam, killing an estimated 275 Viet Cong. The figure was not based on a body count.

A U.S. Air Force F100 Super-saber crashed while attacking a suspected Viet Cong headquarters 65 miles northwest of Saigon and the pilot was presumed killed. Whether the plane was shot down was not known.

Four Marine Skyhawks dropped six tons of bombs Friday night on a suspected Viet Cong radio station 40 miles northwest of Da Nang base. It was not known whether the transmitter was knocked out.

On the ground, the spokesman reported:

Fourteen Viet Cong were killed Friday in Quang Tin Province 350 miles northeast of Saigon by a sweeping Vietnamese operation. Vietnamese losses were light.

A government force killed two Viet Cong on another sweep operation near the abandoned outpost of Ba Ta, four miles outside Saigon. The outpost was overrun by the guerrillas Friday.

North Viet Nam protested the latest U.S. air strikes against Viet Nam by B52 bombers from Okinawa.

In a message to the International Control Commission on Viet Nam, the North Vietnamese said Thursday's air raid by the bombers was "particularly serious because they have used a U.S. base on Japanese territory to stage an attack on South Viet Nam."

Survey Shows Hospital Costs Reach New High

CHICAGO (AP)—The average daily cost for each hospital patient rose to an all time high of $41.58 in 1964, the American Hospital Association reported Saturday.

The costs ranged from an average of $34.31 in the East South Central region which includes Alabama, Mississippi, Kentucky and Tennessee to $54.28 in the Pacific Coast region.

The average expense per patient day has risen from $15.62 in 1950 to $32.12 in 1955, $32.23 in 1960 and $38.91 in 1963.

A report in the Guide Issue of Hospitals, journal of the AHA, said total expenses of all hospitals rose almost 10 per cent above 1963 to $12 billion.

The report said most of the increased cost was caused by payroll expense, which annually represents about two-thirds of the dollar in the nonfederal, short-term general and special hospitals covered in the cost study.

Although the number of registered hospitals in 1964 decreased slightly from the previous year to 7,127, the number of hospital personnel increased from the 1963 figure to 1,840,000 to 1,887,000. The 1964 figure amounted to 133 hospital personnel for every 100 patients and compared with the 1964 figure of only 73 persons employed for every 100 patients.

A decreasing trend in births continued in 1964 with 3,729,382 reported in the nation's hospitals as compared with 3,784,666 in 1963. The decline in births started in 1960 after reaching a high of 3,908,121.

Dr. Edwin L. Crosby, AHA director, said outpatient services increased substantially last year with a total of 125 million such visits. This was 7 million higher than in 1963.

Reach Agreement To Attempt New Confidence Vote

Athanasiadis Novas arrived first and left last, remaining in the palace while the king met privately for 45 minutes with Baklatzis. Baklatzis ordered parliament indefinitely suspended Friday night during an uproarious session.

The speaker noted no quorum was present, with opponents of the government boycotting the session, and said the lack of a quorum indicated "disapproval of the government."

After seeing the king, Baklatzis retreated. He said he agreed to a resumption of parliament Monday under his chairmanship.

"If there is a quorum, the government will have the opportunity to read its policy statements and the confidence vote will continue," Baklatzis said in an apparent about-face.

Athanasiadis Novas said he talked 50 minutes with the king before and after Baklatzis met the monarch. The premier also talked with the monarch briefly Saturday morning.

They agreed that no political or constitutional issue existed, said Athanasiadis Novas. He added that the king's constitutional adviser held that only parliament could decide "whether a government has received a vote of confidence or not."

Immediately after seeing the premier and speaker, Constantine left the palace to fly back to Corfu, where his wife Queen Anne-Marie is vacationing with their three-week-old daughter, Crown Princess Alexia.

The king's final round of talks came after a relatively calm day without major demonstrations. Reinforced police units continued to surround parliament.

Before Baklatzis saw the king, the government announced it would seek to reconvene parliament whether the speaker liked it or not.

With a Monday session now set, the big question was whether the various parties would return to parliament.

Papandreou and the pro-Communist United Democratic Left did not say whether they would end their boycott of the confidence vote debate.

The rightist National Radical Union said it would decide by Monday.

Spyros Markeznis, leader of the small progressive party, said its eight deputies would attend.

Neither Athanasiadis Novas nor Baklatzis gave a hint what would happen Monday if there were no quorum.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — An important step forward was reported Saturday in the painfully long and delicate negotiations to end the Dominican rebellion.

Well-informed sources said that an understanding finally had been reached opening the way for a meeting of ministry men from the rebel and junta camps.

It would be the first face-to-face bargaining by representatives from each side. But disagreements within each camp could still prevent the talks from taking place.

These sources said the junta military men apparently softened their earlier position. Col. Francisco Caamaño Dena, president of the rebel regime, had named 10 second-level officers—captains, lieutenants and majors—to start the bargaining.

Commodore Francisco J. Rivera Caminero, the head of the junta's armed forces, had rejected the idea of sending second-level officers. He insisted on meeting himself with Caamaño.

It is now reported that both sides expressed a willingness to send a limited number of lower-grade officers to the bargaining table, perhaps two or three. Later, as the talks progress, higher officers might also participate.

This is the approach generally favored by the three-man organization of American forces in Viet Nam, will meet with Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chief of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Adm. U.S.G. Sharp, overall commander of the Pacific, at Sharp's Hawaiian headquarters, a Pentagon announcement said.

Five Negroes Are Injured In Demonstration

Walker said all problems would be handled for the time being by the mayor and council. "One thing is certain," he added. "The council will deal only with local Negro citizens and none of the outside individuals and civil rights groups."

The mayor blamed outside influences for racial problems that have beset this town of 15,000 since four Negro women were arrested July 20 after joining a white voting line.

A federal court ordered the four women released Friday. That, said the mayor, "Should have satisfied for now demands of the Sumter County movement."

Negro leaders, however, called for another demonstration Saturday night.

Benjamin Van Clarke, a field worker for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), urged a boycott of white merchants.

Clarke said that Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., leader of the SCLC, planned to come to Americus Monday night to address a rally.

Meanwhile, the Sumter County Grand Jury planned a special session Monday, presumably to consider murder charges against the two Negroes accused of slaying Whatley.

A spokesman for the Sumter Family and Children Service Department said all investigation of welfare cases in Americus has been halted because of the racial situation.

The spokesman, who asked not to be identified, said the orders will not stop welfare payments to persons on the rolls and that individuals with an emergency problem can visit the office in Americus.

He added that the decision was not made in an effort to halt demonstrations. "I just wouldn't want anyone to go into areas white or colored where the tension is high," he said.

no firm schedule for top level talks.

However, both men indicated that negotiations on the company-by-company and subcommittee level were nearing completion and that the 10-member union-industry team that decides wages and other key provisions in the new contract would begin daily talks soon, possibly this week.

The top level team has been meeting once or twice weekly for the past two months, mainly to review progress at lower levels. Abel and Cooper indicated Friday that the two sides are about nine cents apart with the industry offering wage and benefit increases of nine cents an hour and the union demanding 18 cents.

This is virtually the same position they were in three months ago when an interim contract averted a May 1 strike.

Steelworkers now earn an average of $4.40 an hour in wages and benefits.

Justice Dept. To Probe Draft Dodging Appeal

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi's Selective Service director said Saturday he has asked the Justice Department to look into an appeal circulated by a militant civil rights group calling on Negro mothers to urge their sons to be draft dodgers.

Col. James L. Davis, the head of the draft in Mississippi, said he had forwarded the printed appeal to the U.S. attorney's office here.

"I'm shocked," said Davis, adding that similar incidents had resulted in convictions. He declined to elaborate.

"Negroes should not honor the draft here in Mississippi," said a newsletter printed by the Freedom Democratic Party, a largely Negro group.

Lawrence Guyot, executive secretary of the party, hurried back to Jackson from the Mississippi Gulf Coast Saturday after the newsletter had been publicized Friday. He said the party's executive committee neither condemned nor condoned the appeal.

Guyot said the newsletter was an official organ of the party. Guyot said he would welcome any investigation. He would not say if the executive committee planned to take formal action on the matter.

Douglas To Need Adequate Funds Before Running

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., said Saturday he will not run for a fourth term in 1966 unless he is assured of an adequately financed campaign.

"I've not made up my mind whether I should run," Douglas added.

He made his remarks in a taped interview for radio station WIND's For The Record program Sunday evening.

Colt League Stars Out Of Tourney 12-6

SPRINGFIELD — Marion ran up a 9-1 lead in the first three innings then held off two Jacksonville Colt League All-Star team rallies to post a 12-6 victory and eliminate the locals from the Sectional tourney in Springfield, Saturday afternoon.

Held to a single run in the first five frames, Jacksonville chalked up three in the sixth and two more in the 7th before the rally fell short.

The first Jacksonville run came in the third on singles by Abe Brown and Charley Robson and a throwing error on the Marion catcher.

Three more runs crossed the plate in the sixth. Walks to Ken Miller and Bob Dean started it, followed by a run-scoring single by Max Murfin and a two-run double by Duane Hess.

The final two came in the seventh. Reliever Jim Lawrence started it with a single, followed by Robson's double. Tom Murgatroyd singled in a run, followed by Dean's single. Murfin collected Jacksonville's fifth hit in the inning with a run-scoring double. Hess walked to fill the bases before the threat was ended.

The loss knocked the local squad out of the double elimination tourney. They lost to Western Illinois Friday, 9-8.

OUT AT THE PLATE: The Indians' Bill O'Connell is tagged out at home by Giant catcher Paul Mosley in the second inning Saturday night. O'Connell had just slugged a three-run double, getting the Indians started off to an 18-3 romp over the Giants. The Indians now hold a 2-1 edge in the best of five series in the City Little League Series.

Twins Rally To 2-1 Edge Over Orioles

Little League

The Indians exploded for 18 hits, including seven in a ten-run fifth inning, Saturday night, in rolling to a lopsided 18-3 triumph over the Giants.

The victory gives the Indians a 2-1 edge in the best of five series in the City Little League between the two league winners. They will meet again Monday, and if necessary again on Tuesday.

The game stayed close until the fifth with the Indians holding a 3-2 edge in the second and a 5-2 difference in the fourth. The ten-run fifth settled the contest.

Eight of the Indians' hits were for extra bases, including two doubles by Steve Kaufmann and a double and triple by Jan Sheerin. Kaufmann, Sheerin and Rick Roach each collected three hits for the winners.

Ashe Nips Osuna In Zone Finals

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The United States took a 2-0 lead over Mexico in the American Zone Davis Cup finals Saturday as Dennis Ralston won easily over Antonio Palafox 6-2, 6-3, 6-2 after Arthur Ashe, the No. 2 U. S. singles player, upset Rafael Osuna, Mexico's No. 1 star, 6-2, 6-3, 9-7.

Ralston made it a clean sweep for the day with steady overhands, stunning backhands and a strong service which Palafox rarely broke.

The American star, shedding his white hat in the third set, never was in trouble as Palafox errors proved costly for the stocky, perspiring Mexican.

So devastating was Ashe's performance that Osuna was unable to break his service but once, this in the second set after Ashe double-faulted twice.

Ashe, 21, first Negro to represent the U.S. in Davis Cup competition, sent his sizzling serves whizzing over the net repeatedly.

Player One Stroke Up In Thunderbird

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Gary Player, the little health food fanatic from South Africa, stormed from behind two times Saturday, elbowed his way past Jack Nicklaus and grabbed the third round lead in the Thunderbird Golf Classic with a 65 for 201.

Player covered the Westchester Country Club course in seven under par—matching the best round of the tourney—for a one stroke lead going into Sunday's final round for the $20,000 top prize.

Player, who owns the National Open title, forged his brilliant round on eight birdies—including five out of six holes at one stretch—and one bogey over the hilly, 6,573 yard, par 36-72 course.

He was three strokes back opening the day's play, made that up, then fell two back when Nicklaus scored an eagle three on the 12th. He had tied it again by the 15th and went ahead to stay when Masters Champion Nicklaus bogeyed the 16th.

Nicklaus finished with a 69 for 202.

Billy Casper, who started the day one stroke back of Nicklaus and Gene Littler, also had a 69 for 203 and third place.

Littler, the former Open champion, had his troubles, going to a 74 for 207 and a tie with Dave Marr, Mason Rudolph and Pat Schwab. Marr, who had a 65 Friday, came in with a 67 as the elite field continued to punish the beautifully conditioned course. Rudolph shot a 69 and Schwab an erratic 71.

Arnold Palmer drew a good portion of the gallery of 21,217, but managed only a par 72 for 211.

Russians Lead US After First Day

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (AP) — The injury-plagued U.S. Men's track and field team suffered its darkest hour Saturday when the powerful Russians beat America's sky-scraping pole-vaulters and proud sprint relay team for a 58-57 lead after the first day of the dual meet between the two top track and field powers.

With the Sunday program loaded with events in which the Soviet athletes excel, it appeared possible that the American men might absorb their first setback in the seven-year history of the competition.

A magnificent performance by the women, particularly the fleet and plucky Wyomia Tyus of Griffin, Ga., kept the day from being a complete disappointment.

Miss Tyus sped to a world record-tying triumph in the women's 100-meter dash with an 11.1 seconds clocking and staged a great come-from-behind spurt to save the women's 400-meter relay.

The Russians, who normally dominate the series, led the U.S. girls by only 29 1/2 to 22 1/2.

The men were not so lucky. Using a patch-work line-up after 100-meter winner Darel Newman of Visalia, Calif., pulled up lame in that race, the Yank speedsters fell behind the red-clad Russians and never recovered.

Bad Baton Passing

Bad baton passing was largely responsible. Then George Anderson of Baton Rouge, La., who was second in the 100, ran out of his lane and disqualified the team. This meant the Americans were denied the three points that goes to the loser.

It was the first time in the series, dating back to 1958, that the sprint relay team had been beaten, and the same unhappy circumstances fell upon the stratosphere pole-vaulters Jeff Chase and John Pennel.

Russia's surprising Gannady Bliznetsov won with 16-3.

Chase, who finished second and Pennel, third, cleared 16-1.

The Americans received another bitter blow when the Russians, going back on their word, flashed total scores on the big electric board instead of separating the men's and women's results.

"They promised us there would be no combined score until after the meet was completed," said Dan Ferris, secretary emeritus of the Amateur Athletic Union.

"Real Disappointment"

"We didn't try to run it into them last year when we won so handsily at Los Angeles. It is a real disappointment."

At Los Angeles, prior to the Olympics, the American men won 139 to 97 and the women held their favored rivals to a close 59-48.

GRID CARDS SCRIMPAGE

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — Quarterback Charley Johnson threw three touchdown passes Saturday as the St. Louis Cardinals went through a 90-minute scrimmage, first of the training season for the National Football League club.

Two of Johnson's scoring passes were to Sonny Randle and the other to Bobby Joe Conrad. Buddy Humphrey also connected with Randle on a scoring pass and Terry Nofsinger pitched a 60-yard touchdown pass to Billy Gambrell.

Bill Triplett, back in action after missing last year with a lung ailment, was the leading ball carrier with 50 yards in 16 carries.

GERMANS BETTER WORLD MARK

LONDON (AP) — A West German swimming team bettered the world record for the 44-yard relay Saturday night with a time of 3:41.8.

The Germans smashed the record in a solo attempt at London's Crystal Palace.

They knocked 2.1 seconds off the previous record of 3:43.9, set by an Australian quartet at Perth in November, 1962.

Yankees Rally To Nip Indians On Barker's Hit

NEW YORK (AP) — Ray Barker's double with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning scored Elston Howard with the winning run as the New York Yankees came from behind to defeat the Cleveland Indians 7-6 Saturday.

Jack Spring, fourth Cleveland pitcher, retired the first two batters in the ninth but issued a pass to Howard before Barker scored Howard from behind to defeat the Cleveland Indians 7-6 Saturday.

Hal Reniff, third Yankee pitcher, held the Indians scoreless the last three innings to gain credit for the victory.

Joe Pepitone shared the hero's laurels with two home runs, his 14th and 15th of the season. Joe's second homer came with Tommy Tresh on base in the seventh inning and tied the score at 6-6.

Andretti To Run In State Fair 100-Mile Race

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — One of the most colorful new drivers to compete in the United States Auto Club Championship races in recent years is Mario Andretti, Nazareth, Pa., who this year was named the "rookie of the Indianapolis 500" when he finished third.

Andretti, who will be at the Illinois State Fair for the 100-mile USAC race on Saturday, Aug. 21, already has a big following. His third place in the 500 and his fine showings in the other big car races this year have shoved him in front of the pack in the point race for the USAC national championship.

He won the Hoosier Grand Prix Sunday at Indianapolis Raceway Park.

Andretti has 1,260 points, despite tough luck in the Trenton 150-mile on July 18, when he incidentally was won by defending National Champion A. J. Foyt of Houston, Texas, for his first major win of the season. Andretti couldn't run at Trenton because of a half-shaft break on his Dean Lines Special in practice. This sheared off the left rear suspension on the rear-engine Ford.

However, he still holds a 260-point lead over Jim Clark of Scotland, who won at Indy but does not race the USAC regular circuit, and Parnelli Jones of Palos Verdes, Calif., second in the 500, each with 1,000 as of July 21.

The big car race at the State Fair is certain to be a fast one, for in addition to such veterans as Foyt and Jones and Andretti, there will be about nine other speedy rookies. The rookies made a name for themselves early this season when 11 were among the 33 qualifiers for the 500 and five finished in the first 10, including Andretti in third place. Other rookies who will be here include: Billy Foster, Victoria, B. C., Canada; Jerry Grant, Seattle, Wash.; Gordon Johncock, Hastings, Mich., and Arnie Knepper, Belleville.

Illinois Junior Sports Jamboree Set This Week

SPRINGFIELD — Eastern Illinois University at Charleston will take on all the color and pageantry of an Olympic village this week as nearly 600 boys and girls from 167 different towns converge on the campus for the state finals of the 10th annual Illinois Junior Sports Jamboree.

The youngsters, all of them between 10 and 15 years of age, earned their way to the state meet by winning out over an original field of approximately 60,000 who competed in 212 local Jamborees earlier this summer and 8,000 contenders for the sectional titles.

The big track and field competition, which has won national recognition as an incentive program for youth fitness and delinquency prevention, is sponsored annually by the Division of Community Services of the Illinois Youth Commission, with the cooperation of the Illinois Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Charleston Jaycees will serve as hosts to the young athletes during their three-day stay on the EIU campus.

Arriving late Thursday, following a trip from their home town by chartered bus, the youngsters will be assigned to their quarters in the university dormitories, and will spend the evening in informal recreation in the gymnasium and student union building.

Friday's festivities will begin at 9 a.m. with a torch relay and parade through Charleston, followed by a track and field clinic at Lincoln field, the EIU stadium. Dr. Maynard "Pat" O'Brien, head track coach at Eastern and member of the NAIA Track and Field Hall of Fame, will be in charge of the demonstration.

Journal Courier Fair Booth Features Free Am-Fm Radio Drawing

Visitors to the Jacksonville Journal Courier fair booth in the new merchants building will be able to register for a free AM-FM radio each day of the Morgan County Junior Fair starting Tuesday.

The booth will be located on the south side of the building near the west entrance, and everyone is welcome to enter the drawing, which will be held daily at 8 p.m. at the booth.

However, only one entry for the drawing will be allowed. Each entry will be retained in the drawing box until the fair is over, thus allowing each entrant to the contest a fair chance at becoming a winner of the free transistor radio.

Winners need not be present at the time of the drawing, but only one winner from a family will be permitted. Minors must sign their parent's name under the name. The AM-FM transistor radio is capable of receiving stations hundreds of miles away, and yet is small enough to carry handily.

A strong antenna allows a listener to enjoy a variety of selections on the dial, including radio stations at home and throughout the state.

The handsome simulated leather case is attractive enough to be at home in any decorative surrounding, and yet is tough enough to weather the use by the most active of youngsters.

Visitors to the fair and merchants building are welcome to participate in the free drawing at the Journal Courier booth.

Got A Suggestion?

Expressway Plans Due For Revival

If you have a good, constructive suggestion on how to help push an expressway or four-lane highway through central Illinois, the opportunity is close at hand.

Mayor Byron Holkenbrink said Saturday that a growing number of Jacksonville citizens are becoming concerned about the lack of completion of the east-west expressway.

Mayor Nelson Howarth of Springfield is also concerned and anxious that work be resumed on the uncompleted highway studied and planned several years ago.

Holkenbrink said he has talked with the mayors of Springfield, Decatur, Urbana and Springfield, all of whom deplore the situation and are willing to cooperate in an effort to breathe life back into the project.

Mayor Holkenbrink said he suggested to Robert Caldwell, secretary of the original east-west highway committee, that a meeting be called in the near future, perhaps in Springfield, and the organization be revived. Invitations will be sent to all interested persons and officials to attend and discuss future planning.

Senator Paul Douglas and Rep. Paul Findley have expressed approval and said this

Editorial Comment

Example Of The Dutch

This might be a good time for segregation diehards in the South to ask themselves if they are using Reconstruction period following the Civil War as a crutch on which to rationalize their fight against the Negro. If an honest answer indicates that this is so, re-evaluation may be called for.

To this end, a look across the sea toward the Netherlands will increase perspective and disclose a people acting in a mature and civilized manner in a situation that is similar in some respects. The Dutch people are being asked to give up resentment against a former aggressor.

The crimes of the Northern carpet-baggers and their Negro accomplices against the South during the painful period of Reconstruction were surely no more ugly than the acts of the Nazis during their occupation of Holland during World War II. Yet a mere 20 years later the Dutch people are being asked to do what some Southern Americans have not done after a much longer time. They are being asked to accept a former enemy as a friend. More than that, they are being asked to accept him as the prince consort of their ruling family. And they are doing it.

There are Dutch diehards, of course. It would be remarkable if this were not so. But reports indicate that the majority of the people of the Netherlands have put aside their bitterness toward Germans as a group, and have agreed to judge their prospective prince on his merits as an individual.

This is a remarkable display of common sense. It can serve as an example to all who carry resentment into the third and fourth generation. The havoc bitterness creates is great, as the South can testify.

Superhighway Drawback

It will soon be possible to drive in almost any direction across the United States and not see a thing. The network of superhighways is making this possible.

Those who enjoy this type of touring will fill their gas tanks and be happy on their way. For the rest, however, the dullness of superhighway travel can be irritating. That it is efficient few persons would doubt, but as the family car zooms along at something over the posted speed, one is sometimes tempted to wonder what ever became of America.

The hills have been smoothed out, the trees cut down. There is almost nothing to see. The farm house characteristic of the area, the small towns leisuering in the sun, the "clean looking" service stations formerly sought so eagerly, all have retreated behind limited access fences, with the next exit miles away.

Superhighways are smooth and relaxing and tension-free and hard to stay awake on. They are effective in speeding traffic around towns, but frustrating when one leaves them at a "Food — Next Exit" sign only to find that the nearby restaurant is either closed or elegant and expensive when what Mom and Dad really wanted was a quick snack at a roadside stand without waking the baby.

Big highways are undoubtedly necessary to handle today's heavy traffic, and they are here to stay. Perhaps their most pleasing virtue, however, is their talent for gathering in most of the traffic so that those who wish can travel the old routes through the small towns and scenic byways with a maximum of enjoyment and a minimum of traffic. Now, that's a trip worth taking.

Dear Ann:

Checking Gas Gauge An Issue

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Why is it that my wife will not believe it when the gas gauge in the car registers empty? She always has the idea there is enough gas left for one more trip.

This morning (for the third time since Christmas) I've been stuck without gas. Not only was I late for an important business meeting, I was arrested for obstructing traffic.

(You can be sure the ticket is coming out of my wife's allowance.)

When two people use the same car don't you feel the tank should be kept at least half full for the convenience of the other person? Your opinion (and support) will mean a lot.

FROTHING

Dear Frothing: Of course you're right but if it's happened three times since Christmas get smart already. The little woman isn't about to change, so you'd better do the changing, if you want to protect yourself against the physical damage that often results from seething rages.

Whenever you get into the car, assume that the gas tank will be empty. Count on a stop at the filling station as your first order of business. Learning to accept the deficiencies of those we live with instead of trying to change them is the secret of many a good relationship.

Dear Ann Landers: I've been reading your column for over nine years and you seem to have a great deal to say against mothers-in-law. I'll bet anything you're a pain in the neck.

My only son married a little thing. She is plain looking, has no style, no family background, no taste, can't cook, can't bake, her house is a mess and her children look as if someone should send them Care packages.

Yesterday I could stand it no longer so I said, "Lucille, dear, is there a reason for leaving this filthy dishrag in the corner of the sink?" She replied icily,

"If it doesn't bother me why should it bother you?"

One thing led to another and finally she said, "I resent your interfering in my life and I wish you would stop it."

After all, Ann, I turned my son over to this girl and I want her to do right by him. Do you consider a remark about a dishrag "interference?" — JUST HIS MOTHER

Dear His Mother: This is worse than interference. It's downright outrageous since it's her home, her sink and her dishrag. The dishrag was probably the straw that broke Lucille's back.

About my own mother-in-law being a pain in the neck, you're mistaken. She's a gem. Twenty-six years and never has she offered even one suggestion.

Dear Ann Landers: My sister's daughter is getting married in September. She wants to invite all our relatives to the wedding dinner. Her daughter wants to invite all her school friends and the people she works with. When I saw the guest list I almost flipped.

When I told her it would cost a fortune she said, "No, we are going to do something novel — a Dutch treat wedding. We are asking the guests to send a check for $5.00 with their acceptance." (This includes wine.)

I've never in my life heard of such a thing and I told her so. She said, "Nobody ever heard of the telephone until it was invented. We may start a trend."

Please, Ann, print your opinion. I swear this letter is no gag. — HOPING TO AVOID SOME RED FACES

Dear Hoping: If your sister is determined you probably cannot stop her. But if it's my opinion you want here it is: Asking people to pay for their own dinners at a wedding celebration is in hideous taste. I hope she doesn't embarrass her family by going ahead with such gauche plans.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

In early 1965 there were 24,186 board members directing county government affairs in the 3,049 counties of the United States. That's an average of eight per county.

Ham That Tastes Like Ham

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Q—My husband doesn't like the mild-cured ham I usually buy. What type of ham should I get to please his taste? He was raised on a farm.

A—Many people like "ham" that tastes like ham," as they say. They probably mean country-style hams which have been heavily cured. This type always needs either soaking or parboiling before being baked.

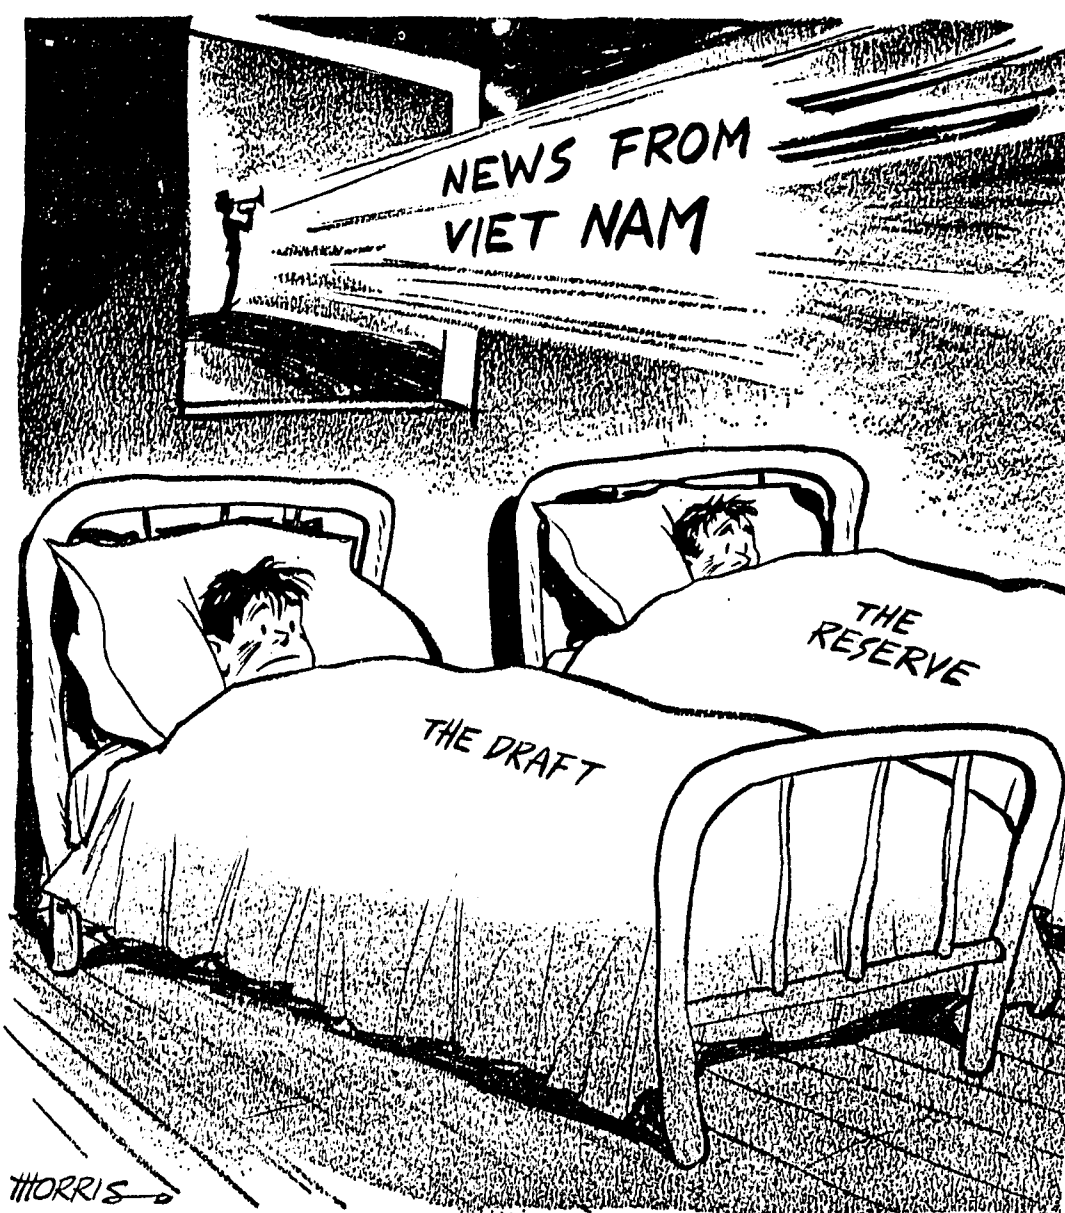

The milder-flavored hams can be either the cook-before-eating type, or the fully cooked hams.

Although the fully cooked hams can be eaten without further cooking, their flavor is improved if they are heated to 130 degrees before serving.

Q—Please tell me exactly what potato, rice, and rye flours are?

A—Potato flour is made from cooked potatoes that have been dried and ground. Rice flour is white, starchy flour milled from white rice. Rye flour is the finely ground siftings of rye meal. You can get it white, medium or dark.

Backyard Patches Britons' Answer To High Tobacco Prices

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Backyard tobacco growers are growing like weeds in Britain.

There are no official figures on the number of householders raising tobacco for their own smokes, but a big cigarette manufacturer estimated it as over 100,000.

A large seed company said that its sale of tobacco seed had increased by 75 per cent this year over last year.

What's the attraction of home-grown tobacco? The answer must be to get around the high price of commercial cigarettes and pipe tobacco.

The government this spring hiked taxes so a pack of ordinary cigarettes retails at 78 cents.

In Britain, tobacco is about as easy to grow as tomatoes. Curing it for smoking is another matter.

With so many householders growing tobacco in their backyards and gardens, tobacco curers have sprouted. There are many, but none operating on a large scale. The law sees to that.

The amateur tobacco-curer may cure a maximum of 25 pounds for each grower every 12 months. The grower and the curer usually use parcel post to get it there and back.

The grower can buy the seed, mail it, have it cured and delivered back to his house for about 14 cents an ounce. On the commercial market, one ounce of smoking tobacco retails for a little over $1.

The Rev. Hugh Cuthbertson, an Anglican vicar, started curing tobacco as a hobby in 1948. He operates a nonprofit business at nearby Dunmow, County Essex.

After paying an entrance fee of $2.10, members can have up to 25 pounds of their own tobacco cured—dried and prepared—for about 6 cents an ounce.

The vicar, 65, once ran out of homegrown tobacco and had to buy commercial tobacco.

"I couldn't bear it," he said. "It affected my throat, caused me to use too many matches and made my pipe filthy."

LBJ 'Image' Needs Less Exposure, More Mystery

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Washington Correspondent Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Johnson's "image" difficulties are compounded in very special ways by the fact that he followed the youthful, martyred John Kennedy into office rather than such oldtimers as Dwight Eisenhower and Harry Truman.

It would have been hard enough for Johnson just to set his rough-hewn style against his predecessor's glamorous "new look."

Worse for him was the feeling among many in and out of government that Kennedy's death by assassination had cheated them. Unconsciously or openly, they marked Johnson as both an interloper and a flashback to an era they thought had ended.

While publicly commending the steady-handed assumption of power, some influential figures in Washington began almost immediately to draw harsh comparisons.

Since he exhibits a number of traits that are less than endearing, they turned easily to what is really a cruel gauge. The sympathy that normally assists a newcomer to the presidency was given by many only in surface measure.

Thus Lyndon Johnson, long a lonely, little-loved man, felt peculiarly unbefriended as he took on the world's loneliest job at a critical turn in history.

In this circumstance, perversely, he has been ill-served by one of his more troublesome traits—his tendency to brood over the way others see him. He seems to fix an almost hypnotic gaze on all the worst that is said of him. Comments a friend:

"He watches television too much! And he shouldn't read all that stuff about him." He might be better off, it is suggested, if he adopted the tactic of some Broadway actors, who never read their press notices whether good or bad.

Doing just the opposite up to now, the President has increased his anguish by his "come and see my bedroom" approach to the press and other key White House visitors. This dogged intimacy has given him a vast overexposure.

Here again, the Kennedy pattern has been a stumbling block. The late president, mindful of his narrow victory margin in 1960, opened White House doors to press and television with the deliberate intent of enlarging and reinforcing his public stature.

Johnson, at once impressed by this example and fretful over his own image problems, has carried to extremes his allowance of what once was described as "large-pore photography."

There is a strong feeling right now that he is helped less by being seen wandering around in his shorts than he would be if he could acquire some of the misty detachment surrounding the stone figures on Mount Rushmore.

Even without the purposeful Kennedy example, any president today is bound to be limited in more familiar detail than in earlier times. The concentration of news media upon the White House is incredibly expanded.

Consequently, it is harder than ever to preserve what this high office vitally needs as a balance—an air of mystery and aloofness. And Lyndon Johnson in the view of friends and critics alike, has not sensed this necessity.

He has, instead, persisted in relentlessly unveiling his worst traits with a crushing familiarity.

If any counselor—new press secretary Bill Moyers or some other—can now dissuade the President from this course, he may prove to be worth his weight in paper ballots.

Viet's Grass-roots Fighters

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Viet Nam is like any place else. If you want to catch a fox, then set a fox to get him.

Down in the southern part of Viet Nam, near the city of Ca Mau, two of us ran across a tough, wily village chief who'd run away as a youth and fought for years as a Viet Minh and Viet Cong guerrilla. He'd gotten fed up with Communist methods and come home. But he'd lost none of his fighting ability.

He'd built his hamlet security forces centered on a tough little group of young men in their twenties. They didn't fight the Viet Cong in conventional ways. They didn't chase all over looking for guerrillas. They didn't sit back behind barbed wire and barricades and wait for an attack.

Each day some of his villagers would go out and nose around among their relatives and friends in neighboring hamlets and towns. They listened to the gossip. They kept their eyes open for strangers and for the relatives of villagers they knew had joined the Reds, and if they found them, engaged them in idle conversation. They picked up rumors, noticed little things like which young men sympathetic to the Viet Cong were away. By adding the bits and pieces together, this hamlet chief kept track of where the Viet Cong were operating and what they were planning next.

He almost always knew when the V.C. were planning to raid his hamlet and how they would attack. Quietly his men would set up ambushes.

"You know," he told us, "the V.C. are suckers for ambushes. You'd think with all their ambushing they'd know better. But they fall right into traps like green recruits."

(Note—He booby trapped the possible invasion paths he didn't have the manpower to cover with his ambushes.)

The moral of this tale is simple. There are in South Viet Nam tens of thousands of able men who fought as Viet Minh in the successful guerrilla wars against the French. Many of these men, still young, were officers in Ho's armies. Moving around South Viet Nam, a reporter meets men who served as captains, majors and even colonels, in Ho's Viet Minh. One day, while having lunch with several Vietnamese newspapermen, one disclosed he'd been chief of staff of one of Ho's armies in northern Laos years ago.

These men are loyal Vietnamese. They're not Communists. They were fighting as nationalists against the French and quit after South Viet Nam was set up or when they discovered the Reds wanted to control the country.

These men know Ho's strategy and tactics. They're old hands at guerrilla fighting. Few are being used in this war in positions of responsibility. Yet who could better outwit the Viet Cong?

There are some men now working in the Pentagon on ways to shake out the rigidity in the Vietnamese army system that effectively bars the use of these men. But don't count on a quick solution.

FINDING THE WAY

Face Up To Storms

BY RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The kitchen table seemed a safe hideaway. To four boys, caught in a summer storm, the crackling lightning was frightening and the roll of thunder seemed to crash on our roof.

Our parents had been visiting on this Sunday afternoon and when they returned they found us explaining or justifying our fright.

I shall always remember my father taking us to the door, explaining the storm to us, telling us the meaning of lightning and instilling a proper respect instead of fear.

The memory was bright the other day as news accounts told of the rise of the Ku Klux Klan in England, of the problems posed by various organizations being spawned in our own country and of the worrisome fright that besets so many.

It's a time of crackling storms and we rush for the pseudo-safety of the big table. Every community has its version.

These are the people who are unwilling to confront the cause and meaning of the storm, are so insecure they cannot bear to look at it, and are so fear-filled they cower in the dark corner.

The storms of revolutionary change are everywhere. It would be pleasant to think of the quiet days, but the lightning reveals in those quick stabs of light the possibilities of wars, of bloodshed and of the unresolved tensions in our own selves. If we could do so, we'd like to wait this one out somewhere. There's nothing new about our big-table psychology.

The old prophet cried, "Awake, why sleepest thou?" Jesus chided his disciples for their lack of faith and their unwillingness to confront reality. And St. Paul was forever nudging those early Christians into action.

A clinical analysis of so many fear-stricken persons in our own time would reveal the temptation to duck under some big table and never really confront the problem. None of these problems are easy. The thunder is too close for comfort.

It's better to understand the storm than to cringe in the dark. It's better to live in the thunder than to resign mind and freedom to some organization that exploits our fears.

These big tables collect their crowds of the fearful. It's better to understand the storm and to have that courage that comes to the reverent. They know nothing can separate them from the love of God.

What Spoiling Really Means

By BRUNO BETTELHEIM

Excerpted from "Dialogues With Mothers"

Dr. B.: Are we still talking about spoiling children? What do you mean by spoiling?

Mother: Mine's spoiled rotten. But he's not being spoiled any more!

Dr. B.: Who am I to argue in favor of your child? I may in a moment, but first tell me what you mean by spoiling?

Mother: Oh, it's just that I have to be doing something for him all the time!

Dr. B.: How old?

Mother: He's four.

Dr. B.: And when did this tyranny begin?

Mother: Right after birth.

Dr. B.: How come? Why?

Mother: I don't know why. I'm always just waiting on him.

Dr. B.: What does he do that gets you down?

Mother: Oh, you've just got to play with him all day long.

Dr. B.: So what do you do? Entertain him?

More And Better: Dairyman's Year

URBANA — Illinois dairy herds enrolled in the Dairy Herd Improvement Association put forth another record-breaking effort in the official record-keeping year ending in April.

University of Illinois extension dairy scientist Gary Harpestad says the 1,444 DHIA herds completing 12 months on test in April averaged 11,911 pounds of milk and 458 pounds of butterfat per cow. That's an increase of 112 pounds milk and 7 pounds of butterfat over last year.

Harpestad says a highlight of the testing year was the efficiency with which Illinois dairymen produced milk. Returns above feed costs were up $10 over the previous year, even though average feed costs were $2 higher.

The records show that the highest producing herd in the state is owned by Edwin Walberg of Garden Prairie. His 36 Holstein cows averaged 17,648 pounds of milk and 695 pounds of butterfat for the year.

Rosewood Farm of Roselle had the highest producing Guernsey herd, with 83 cows averaging 12,742 pounds of milk and 634 pounds of fat.

Reinhard Gerdes of Princeton is the owner of the state's top-producing brown Swiss herd. His 28 cows averaged 14,461 pounds of milk and 593 pounds of fat.

The top Jersey herd is owned by Melvin Graves of Dundas. His herd of 55 registered Jerseys averaged 11,303 pounds of milk and 600 pounds of fat.

Paul McDonald of Princeton owns the top Ayrshire in the state. McDonald's 25 cows averaged 14,356 pounds of milk and 599 pounds of butterfat.

Harpestad says that 19 Illinois herds produced more than 600 pounds of butterfat for the year. Four hundred fifteen herds averaged over 500 pounds of fat.

SHARP ANSWER

RENO, Nev. (AP)—The Reno Park Commission thinks it has the answer to vandals who have been uprooting and sawing away juniper trees on a business district street. The commission is planting spiny Greek junipers to replace the present Hollywood junipers.

"They're very prickly," says Supt. Bruce Clogston. "Anybody would get his hand out in a hurry."

Young Tractor Drivers Aim At Prizes

URBANA—Nearly 70 4-H and FFA tractor drivers, each a winner in his county or district, will compete this week for top honors in the State Junior Tractor Operators' Contest. Competition during the Illinois State Fair in the Junior Department on August 19-20 will determine Illinois' 4-H representative to the Western U. S. 4-H Tractor Operators' Contest to be held at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin, October 4-5.

The state's winning 4-H tractor operator will receive an expense-paid trip to this regional event and other awards from the American Oil Foundation.

According to F. H. Myrland, University of Illinois state 4-H Club specialist, each contestant will demonstrate his knowledge and skill in servicing and operating a tractor. Driving skill and safety will be based on handling a tractor with a two-wheel trailer and then with a four-wheel wagon attached. Knowledge of tractor care, mechanics and safety will be tested by a written quiz and daily tractor checkup.

Unlike in most other contests, the tractor operators will be working for the lowest score rather than the highest. Penalty points are assessed against each contestant for unsafe procedures, excessive time requirements, questions missed on the quiz and improper checking and driving procedures.

To be eligible for the state contest, the entrant must be a winner of a county 4-H tractor operators' contest or a contest involving three or more high school vocational agriculture departments.

Wendell Bowers, extension agricultural engineering specialist at the University of Illinois, is in charge of the state contest.

Local Men Will Attend State Livestock Meet

The second Annual Illinois Feeder Livestock Buying Conference will be held on Tuesday August 10, at the Loveland Community Building in Dixon, beginning at 10:00 a.m. The conference is being sponsored by the Illinois and National Livestock Feeders Associations in cooperation with the University of Illinois.

John Killam, Allen Smith and George R. Thayer of Jacksonville's Illinois - Midwest Livestock Feeders Association, plan to attend.

Program subject matter will be extended to include feeder pig procurement, in addition to the buying of feeder cattle.

"No other single phase of the feeding operation is more important in determining the financial success or failure than the buying of feedlot replacements," Sikkema stated.

Informal discussion and question and answer periods will be conducted by a variety of specialists.

GIN GAVE GROWTH

From a crop of 10,000 bales of cotton in the year Whitney's gin was made workable, production increased 12 times in the first decade. By 1835, the first million-bale crop was raised, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

FS, Inc., Now Three State Corporation

Shareholders of Farm Bureau-related cooperatives in Illinois, Iowa, and Wisconsin today voted approval of a proposal which will make a three-state operation of FS Services, Inc.

The action taken makes possible the consolidation of Wisconsin Farmco Service Cooperative and Producers Seed Company with FS Services. This action was taken at two separate meetings, one held at Madison, Wis., and one at Springfield, Ill.

FS Services distributes plant food, feed, petroleum products, and other farm supplies to member companies in Illinois and Iowa which in turn sell the supplies to farmers. Headquarters in Bloomington, Ill., FS is an affiliate of the Illinois Agricultural Association (statewide Farm Bureau) and the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation.

According to Melvin E. Sims, president of FS, the resulting three-state regional organization will be able to provide a better and more complete all-around farm supply service to farmers in the area to be served.

Effective date for completion of the Producers Seed consolidation is August 1, and for the Wisconsin Farmco consolidation, September 1.

It has been estimated that sales in the Wisconsin territory will represent about 10 per cent of the total FS business after merger. The total seed business in the three states is expected to have an initial volume of about $5 million.

Projected annual volume of business in the three-state regional operation of FS Services, Inc., in the areas of petroleum, feed, fertilizer, farm supplies, and seed for the fiscal year 1965-1966 is $147,000,000.

Paulson To Speak At Rural Economic Seminar

Arnold Paulson, Granite Falls, Minnesota, businessman who for the past several years has expressed deep concern over what he sees as "a rapid decline in the rural economy," will be the principal speaker at a Rural Economic Seminar on Aug. 9th at the Jacksonville Elks Club. Dinner is to be served at 7:30, reservations for which must be made in advance.

Arnold Paulson

The seminar is sponsored by Morgan - Scott - Greene - Cass Co. former members of the National Farmers Organization.

The committee invites clergy, businessmen, civic leaders, and the general public to attend, particularly businessmen and civic leaders.

Paulson has been in great demand as a speaker throughout the upper mid-western states, the committee says, and has had to turn down over a hundred or more invitations and speaking engagements in the past few months due to lack of time.

He has been an independent businessman for over 20 years, and a music dealer for the past 10. He also manages his own agency, the Minnesota Business & Industrial Promotion Agency, helping Minnesota communities to obtain new industry.

Speaking on the decline in rural economy, recently, he stated that the average person in the rural areas "hasn't the slightest idea what is taking place and is completely unaware of the forces at work that are dedicated to completely destroy our rural way of life. It's impossible to comprehend what is taking place unless a person takes the time and effort to completely evaluate serious problems that confront every rural community."

"Rural America is on the auction block. We are being sold out. Time is our worst enemy—if it isn't already too late to salvage our rural American way of life."

He was alerted to these problems and conditions, he said, while working with communities trying to attract industry to stimulate their economy — working with communities who have resolved to "Grow rather than Die." If you have an investment in rural America, the seminar committee says, then by all means hear his challenging and alarming message.

We urge a strong turnout at the Jacksonville Elks Club for the meeting Monday evening, Aug. 9th, the seminar committee said, and they assure you that all who come will never regret it as Mr. Paulson is presently the most sought after speaker in the Upper Mid-West.

Paulson was named Minnesota's Outstanding Young Man in 1950; served as State President of the Minn. Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1952-53; Nat'l. Americanism chairman of the United States Jr. Chamber of Commerce in 1953-54; Past president of the Granite Falls Chamber of Commerce; pres. of the Granite Falls Jr. Chamber of Commerce in 1950, which was named the Outstanding Chapter in the nation; one of the four official hosts to President Eisenhower when he visited the state in 1952; a former member of the Minnesota Poll; served as head of seven major organizations at the same time; served three years overseas during World War II.

ACROSS THE FIELDS AND FURROWS

with ED GARLICH

IT IS NOT ALL PORTERHOUSE

I ran across some interesting figures about beef the other day, part of which I'd like to pass on to you.

Did you know that only about 14% of a steer carcass is made up of Porterhouse, T-Bone, Club and Sirloin steak? 1000 lb. live steer would produce about a 500 lb. carcass and 700 pounds of these choice steaks. There would be some 125 lbs. of bones, waste and shrinkage, almost as much hamburger and about 175 lbs. of round steaks and rib rump and chuck roasts.

FROM THE CORN CRIB! A husband and wife had been arguing for hours, and the little woman finally reached the breaking point.

"I'm going home to mother," she wailed. "I should have listened to her 10 years ago!"

"Go ahead," he answered. "She's still talking!"

Across the Fields and Furrows is brought to you daily at 12:25 P.M. on WLD 5 1180 on your dial by the people at Elliott State Bank.

The Rescued Sparrow Hawks

By Emma Mae Leonhard

June could have been a tragedy for three baby Sparrow Hawks that, for some reason unknown to us, became orphans in the west part of Jacksonville. Each one was rescued from the prowling cats by a different family, placed in an appropriate cage, and fed the appropriate food: hamburger and liver included.

Two of the three grew into healthy hawks; the third had been hurt too badly to survive in spite of kind care. The two survivors were freed when they seemed ready to care for themselves.

Sociable Bird

The Sparrow Hawk is the smallest and most sociable of our hawks. It builds its nest in natural cavities of trees and deserted Woodpecker holes, sometimes in the hollows of old orchard trees near farm houses or in a dead tree alongside a road. Although it doesn't usually nest in a town, these baby Sparrow Hawks undoubtedly first saw light in Jacksonville.

The adult Sparrow Hawk isn't much larger than a robin. It is a beautiful bird, with sharp distinct coloring. Its tail and back are a rufous red; its wings are a blue gray; the sides of its head are white, marked with black moustache-like curves; and its breast is spotted. Often it can be seen sitting on a fence post or telephone pole, sometimes hovering over a meadow with rapidly beating wings.

Nature's "Pesticide" This little hawk, or Kestrel as it is called, is not only sociable and beautiful; it is beneficial. Its food during the warm months is mostly insects, like grasshoppers, crickets, beetles, with a good fat mouse thrown in.

During the winter, meadow mice and house mice are its prey. In fact, some of the other names for it are Grasshopper Hawk and Mouse Hawk.

Perhaps these rescued and kindly reared Sparrow Hawks are saying thank-you to the rescuers by ridding Jacksonville of some nuisances. Then we also say thank-you to those beneficial Sparrow Hawks.

Prayer Poem—

Children Love Pets

By Mary Pence Claywell

She held the leash that guided him,
A little lass of "five" perhaps

And her little puppy, leaped and ran Unmindful of . . . restraining straps.
She was so care-free, Dearest Lord,

With little head held high
For at the strap's "end," frisking.

Was this world's grandest prize:
I pondered it, a minute, Lord.

A "pet," of simple worth,
Meant more to her, Dear Father,

Than all the gold . . . on earth:
We thank Thee, Lord, for "little" things.

Like "pups," that frisk and roll,
For children need some kind of pet.

To "tripen" heart and soul,
And Thou, O Lord, both Good and Wise,

That seeth from above . . .
Knows little hearts, are bound to thrive

On something of their own . . .
To "love": And sometimes, Lord, a

"grown-up," Is, too, much better off . . .
To have a "pet," to soften things

When the "going" . . . gets "too tough!"

TRIP TO KANSAS

We left Illinois early one morn., with four people, a dog, and a bushel of corn.

As we traveled along there were many sights to be seen. The trees were still brown, but the grass was green.

As we came to the river there was a heavy fog. We nearly ran over a slow-moving dog.

Cattle and horses ran through the fields. On and on turned our wheels. Sites to be seen and things to be done.

Has anyone ever had so much fun? Our stomachs were growling on the freeway.

We stopped to eat, but we did not stay. As we traveled along the hills of Missouri!

We didn't stop but we did hurry. As we neared Kansas what did we see?

But the Missouri River as big as can be. We stopped by the river to get some dirt.

And then paused for a bottle of Squir. As we arrived in Russell it was growing dark.

Our little white dog started to bark. Our journey now was at an end.

Not a fender did we bend. The next morning we started to leave. And I had a tear in my sleeve.

As we began our trip back home. I sat and composed this little poem. We finally reached home Tuesday night.

My uncle had driven with all his might. I hopped into bed with a couple of sighs.

And pretty soon I closed my eyes.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

Vacation is here at last! Now we'll get out of class. We can invite our friends over for each night.

In the morning you'll look a fright. Or maybe you'll go swimming in a pool.

Oh, what fun we have when there is no school! We'll play tennis or fishing or camping or just sleeping.

If you go fishing in the creek And you catch something that may be good to eat.

But when you finally pull it out you find it's just a baby trout. So this is the time of year When you should have the most cheer.

Now get into gear For summer time is finally here.

Fueling Bumper Rocket

By Walter B. Hendrickson, Jr.

It was only 15 years ago last month that the first rocket was launched from Cape Kennedy (then called Cape Canaveral). This rocket was one of two Bumper rockets (numbers 7 and 8) America's first large two-stage rockets brought to the Cape for long range tests. At the time of Project Bumper, there were only the most primitive facilities available at the Cape. A sand-bagged bunker served as a blackhouse and an iron scaffolding, pushed by hand was the service tower.

The first launching of Bumper rocket number 7 was attempted on July 19, 1950. However, a valve stuck in the V-2 first stage and it failed to start properly. This meant that the rocket, and its WAC-Corporal second stage, had to be drained of fuel and taken down for repairs.

While Bumper rocket No. 7 was being repaired number 8 was brought to the launch site on July 24, 1950. The rocket was fastened securely to the transporter, called a Meillerwagen, which had been designed as part of a mobile V-2 launching battery by the German inventors of the rocket.

The Meillerwagen was carefully backed up to the portable launch stand. The trailer's hydraulic system whirled as it lifted the 7,184 pound V-2 into a vertical position on the stand. Now the men push the make-shift service tower up around the rocket. The 28-pound WAC-Corporal was next hauled up and placed atop the V-2. The

Every rocket launched at the Cape since this first shot has used one or the other of the two types of fuels used in the two stages of the Bumper. Fuels like those used in the WAC-Corporal that ignite when they mix are called hypergolic. And fuels, like liquid oxygen, which boil at normal temperatures are called Cryogenic.

When Bumper Rocket number 8 was launched it arched over the ocean to a record distance, for that time of 180.4 miles. Bumper number 7 was brought back to the launch site for a duplication of this successful flight on July 29, 1950.

Now the rockets were ready for fueling. Men in bright orange plastic coveralls, like the one in the picture, with gloves and hoods moved in to fill the WAC-Corporal with its mix of aniline and red fuming nitric acid. They were careful not to let the two fuels mix because they were explosive as well as poisonous.

The fueling of the V-2 was somewhat less hazardous because only the hydrogen peroxide that ran the rocket's fuel pumps was poisonous. Also the 8,452 pounds of alcohol and 10,940 pounds of liquid oxygen that went into the V-2 would not burn until a spark or flame lit them.

GOOD FRIENDS — PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. — "You can lead a duck to water, but you can't make him fly away," says George Gates of this northern New York city. The flock of 40 mallard ducks was befriended by the Gates family when the food supply at a nearby pond gave out. Mr. Gates began feeding the birds rice and oatmeal and now they refuse to leave, following him to the edge of the pond and then back to his home. (UPI Telephoto)

GALLANT FOX

"See that big red stallion that's rounding the turn?" He'll win, you'll be sure and learn.

I think he's a sprinter but look at that bay!

The red has a chance but the other will stay,

"Hey!" yelled a big, burley man

"Know whose going to win? Wild Clam."

He didn't see it our way, or agree.

He probably decided we didn't see!

But you know who won? Gallant Fox!

He who could win our stones and rocks!

The others made a game try. But they couldn't beat the Fox when he started to fly!

I don't mean like in a plane. I just mean fast, fast like a train.

Well, I admit it was a fast race But Gallant Fox held his own pace.

Though you'll never guess it (And I'm not making up this little bit)

Gallant Fox won the Triple Crown

Even though he looked like a flash of brown

He broke some track records you can bet

He broke a track record that is seldom met

If you had a race horse you thought was the most

Make sure the Fox wasn't at the post!

GARDEN INSECTS

Hippity hop, hippity hop. On and on and never stop.

Hopping here, hopping there, Up the walk and up the stair.

There you hop all around, Always silent ne'er a sound.

In the grass, through the weeds, Where we plant the garden seeds.

You eat the grass, you eat the weeds,

You better not eat the garden seeds.

Hippity hop, hippity hop. Grasshopper why don't you stop.

Oh, garden spider over there, Spinning without a care.

You catch your food right in your web.

(At least that's what my parents said.)

Oh, garden spider, oh garden spider you are a great spinner.

Oh garden spider, oh garden spider what are you having for dinner?

A feast of grasshoppers, flies and bees.

My oh my what a feast! Now we must leave our garden friends

Walk up to the fence where the garden ends

Then turn and wave a short good-by

And then walk off with a long sigh

Taffy And Friend

By Mrs. Otto Dorr

It was a very chilly day when twitted, "Let's go," and fluted toward the door. Buff the hen came strutting home with a bevy of fluffy baby chicks. The lady of the house vited. "There is some breakfast food in my saucer." In a flash the babies. Buff the cat just they circled the dish, peck-peck-peck-peck, and every the chicks came nearer and streamed out into the yard.

Pat, pat, pat, pat-a-pat, foot-steps! Buff's eyes widened. "They must have exercise," she explained. "Though I do hate walking in the wind." Disheveled Buff shivered.

Suddenly a rush of footsteps called, "Cluck, Cluck, Cluck: swept through the doorway, six now try it this way. Keep close to me." Buff edged out into the yard, strangely enough Taffy her.

"Do you mind if we all stop here a bit?" she asked. "The stormy wind today bothers me." Buff purred loudly. "It troubles me, too, it blows furr in to my eyes. O stay here, there is something really GOOD!"

"Walk close," she chirped, "and put your nose close to my beak." Crouching along Buff saw her stop and peck sharply. "Look," she signaled, "Here is plenty of room."

BULL'S EYE — A feud between two Cleveland, Ohio, men ended in a gun battle and a freak shot which police tabbed a one-in-a-million, or even 10 million, chance. A bullet from Robert Bufford's .32-caliber revolver went straight into the barrel of Willie Lee Stovell's .41-caliber revolver, shown, striking the bullet inside and fusing into a lead mass.

When a defender drops a high card the presumption is that he did not hold a low card. Declarer should study the play to determine the possible card combinations that would have led to that high card play and then apply the principle of restricted choice to see which combination was most likely.

Today we have the same North and South hands as yesterday and South finds himself at the same six heart contract against the same opening lead. The only difference is that we have juggled the East-West trump holdings a trifle, so that when South plays the ace of trumps he drops the eight and seven and when he leads a low

100 YEARS AGO

EMMA, QUEEN DOWAGER OF HAWAII, whose portrait we give on our first page, arrived in England on July 14th. The Queen Dowager Emma is partially of white extraction, since, though she belongs on the mother's side to a race of native chieftains, her father was a grandson of John Young, one of the companions of Vancouver. She was married in 1856 to his Majesty Kamehameha IV., who died in 1863. The only son of Kamehameha and Emma died in 1862, and the throne was consequently occupied by Kamehameha V., the brother of the late King, who is the present sovereign of Hawaii.

The Queen Dowager is of very pleasing appearance and graceful and dignified carriage. Her manners and habits being those of the aristocracy of Europe. Her education has been adapted to her station and her amiability of temper and benevolence of disposition have secured for her the affection of her people. She is a member of the Episcopal Church.

The present King of Hawaii is thirty-five years of age, and is physically a fine example of the native race. Under his reign the affairs of the kingdom have made rapid progress, and he has developed the constitutional Government which was instituted in 1848. There are two Americans in the King's cabinet — C. C. Harris, the Minister of Justice, and E. H. Allen, Keeper of the Seals.

Hawaii is the largest and most southerly of the Sandwich Islands, and is, in fact, twice as large as all the rest put together, being a hundred miles long and about eighty miles wide. It is wholly volcanic, and appears not to be an upheaval, but rather a deposit from the numerous volcanoes of which it forms the base, the southern coasts being composed almost entirely of lava or volcanic cinders, the masses of which are broken into deep caverns, the abode of innumerable wild fowl, or rising in almost perpendicular cliffs, against which the sea dashes in frequent storms.

DOMESTIC

Gen. Grant and his family are at Saratoga.

At the recent overflow at Leavenworth, Kans., over 20 persons were drowned.

Yale College has been especially honored by her sons during the rebellion. She sent 737 pupils to the war; of whom 565 were graduates; 3 have become major-generals, 2 brigadier-generals, 37 colonels, besides numerous of lesser grades.

Gen. Sully has arrived at Fort Sully, Minn., with his forces. He is about moving on to Fort Rice, where the Indian chiefs have concentrated their braves for the purpose of giving battle. The New York Herald says that Jeff Davis is in the receipt of numerous letters reproaching him for having brought ruin upon the south.

Miss Braddon, the novelist, like Miss Evans, has her domestic dark spot. She is not the wife of Maxwell, the publisher, at whose board she sits; while Maxwell's wife is confined to a mad house. The pair live at Windsor.

Pyromania is the new and fashionable name for a propensity to set fire to a neighbor's house.

The Louisville Journal says: "Jeff Davis and his followers got up the rebellion for the pretended purpose of rendering their property in slaves secure. And now Jeff Davis is in prison awaiting trial for his life and his ex-slaves are cultivating his fine plantation of 2,000 acres, in Mississippi, for their own benefit."

An itinerant preacher, who rambled in his sermons, when requested to stick to his text, replied, that "scattering shot would hit the most birds."

Workmen are now engaged in removing the wood-work furniture, &c., from Ford's Theatre, preparatory to remodeling it as a fire-proof building for the reception of the archives of the late rebel government.

Admiral Dahlgren was married lately to Mrs. Goddard, of Washington, D.C., daughter of Hon. S. Vinton, of Ohio. The bridegroom is 55; the bride 28. —Frank Leslie's Newspaper

PFC. AIRSMAN OF ROODHOUSE HOME ON LEAVE

ROODHOUSE — PFC Joe Airmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Airmann, is home on a fifteen-day furlough. At the termination of his leave he will report back to Ft. Benning, Ga. Dr. Frank Veith will leave Aug. 1 for Staten Island where he will visit his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich Kuster, and son, Dr. Veith's office will be closed for the month of August.

Miss Millicent McCauley, Du-luth, Minn., formerly a music supervisor in the Winchester School Unit, has returned home after spending a week with Mrs. Annabelle McKean of this city who is a teacher in the same unit and with Mrs. McKean's sister, Miss Rebecca Stubblefield, in the same home.

News, Views Century Ago

FROM THE JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL
DONATIONS — The Freedman's Bulletin, of Chicago, credits cash receipts in aid of Freedmen's Commission, for the month of June, to Jacksonville $488.45 and to Waverly $158.50. Pretty well.

PIONEER STOCK INSURANCE CO. — This enterprising company has been organized in Spfld. and Mr. F. S. Browning, of this city, is special agent for Morgan and several adjoining counties. Our country friends will find it a good thing, especially if horse stealing is to flourish as at present.

PEACHES — Our friends, Fortado & Gomez, had the kindness to supply us with some most delicious peaches, the first of the season, which they have for sale.

SHERMAN AND HIS CAMPAIGNS — is the title of a work now in press, in volume of five hundred pages, at $3.50 per volume, and to be ready about the first of September. Mr. Wallace Sawyer, of Concord, is agent for Morgan County and is meeting great success in taking subscriptions.

SOLDIERS' RECEPTION AT PISGAH — Owing to the inclemency of the weather the proposed reception to returned soldiers at Pisgah, on Wednesday last, did not take place. Thursday, the 10th of August, has been appointed for that purpose. Music, singing and speeches may be expected.

INTERNAL REVENUE — Our citizens should remember that it is now time to pay their income taxes, and Mr. Mathers will be glad to receipt to them for the same. The tax in Morgan County foots up to the snug sum of $49,231.20.

To the People of Concord and vicinity — The undersigned begs leave most respectfully to return his very sincere thanks to the members of Co. B, of the late 101st Regiment, Illinois Volunteers, and also to the citizens of Concord and vicinity generally, for the very liberal and most substantial aid to him through the politeness of Mr. E. Burbank, for the purpose of assisting him in the procurement of his artificial leg; for this mark of their esteem and very liberal assistance he will ever feel under many obligations to the donors. Very respectfully, Benjamin F. Moss. Sentinel please copy.

From the Jacksonville Sentinel:
Dr. Owen M. Long, formerly of this city, has been appointed Illinois Military State agent in New Orleans. We presume that the burden of duty devolving upon this officer is to draw his salary from the Illinois state treasury and receipt for same. Capt. Horace Chapin sold to Matt Ashely the undivided half of 89 lots in Chapin for $2,500.

We learn that the Christian denomination of this city are preparing to erect a new church building on east State street, two blocks from the public square. The new place of worship is being built by the anti-Russellite wing of the church.

A CANARD — We learn that some unrighteous scamp has circulated the report in some parts of the country that our old friend, B. F. Bristow, was tied up, killed and scalped by the band of Indians with which he is traveling.

This report is untrue. We received a communication from friend Bristow this week, from Dayton, Ohio, which we will spread before our readers next week. We are happy to state that Mr. Bristow is in the enjoyment of his Indian allies, who yet retain a refreshing remembrance of their grand buffalo hunt here July 4th last.

46 AT ANNUAL POTLUCK GIVEN BY CHURCH MEN

MEREDOSIA — The annual potluck, sponsored by the Lutheran Church Men of St. John's Church at Meredosia, was held Sunday at Nichols Park in Jacksonville. Forty-six people were present.

Also present were Kim and Beverly Gerecke, Mr. and Mrs. Don Oettle, Mary, Judy, Ronnie, Patty, Chris and Noel; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schroeder, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Nortrup, Betty Schroeder, John Rentz, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wegehott, Mrs. Edna Telling, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ommen, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Schlieker and Patsy, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nunn, Caroline, Norma and Joyce, Pastor and Mrs. Zerbe and Stephanie, Mrs. Marvin Gerecke, Karl, Larry, Billy, Janet, David and Darlene; Julie Smith and Brenda and Becky Donham.

WITH RADAR UNIT IN VIET NAM

SAIGON, Viet Nam — Technical Sergeant Donald Norris, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Norris of Griggsville, is now on duty with a unit of the U.S. Pacific Air Forces (PACAF) in Viet Nam.

Sergeant Norris is a radar operations technician and is helping provide essential support and services for USAF personnel who are training and assisting the Vietnamese in their fight against communist aggression. PACAF is responsible for the training mission and for providing airpower to defend the U.S. and its allies in the Pacific and Far East areas.

The sergeant, a graduate of Griggsville High School, is married to the former Patricia L. Branstetter, daughter of Mrs. Edna Branstetter, who resides on East Star Route, Nowata, Okla.

HUMORS of the day

In a German paper of this city, somebody desires to engage "a boy of fourteen years, or a young man of the same age," to help him in a lager beer saloon.

A TOAST — The Press: It expresses truth, re-presses error; im-presses knowledge, de-presses tyranny, and op-pressed none.

A lady, walking by the sea-side, asked a sailor whom she met, why a ship was called "she?" The son of Neptune replied that it was "because the rigging cost more than the hull."

"Very difficult, is it?" said Dr. Johnson, when a small child has finished playing a piece of music; "I wish it had been impossible."

A youth, with a turn for figures, had five eggs to boil, and being told to give them three minutes each, boiled them for a quarter of an hour altogether.

A celebrated dandy was one evening in company with a young lady, and observing her kiss her favorite poodle, he advanced and begged the like favor, remarking that she ought to have as much charity for him as she had shown to the dog.

"Sir," said the belle, "I never kissed my dog when he was a puppy."

The fellow took the hint, and was off instantly.

—Harper's Weekly

FOREIGN

Alfred Tennyson, the poet laureate of England, is failing very fast. He was just recovering from a severe throat disease, when, walking one evening in his Isle of Wight garden, he took cold, and now, it is stated, symptoms of consumption are evident. His friends are going to move him to the south of France at once, as the only chance of saving his life.

Queen Victoria's costume in public, of late, has been a black silk dress trimmed with ermine and jet, and a Mary Queen of Scots' cap, with a long veil, necklace and cross of diamonds. The new electoral law in the British colony of Victoria, gives votes to all women who pay municipal rates, and at the last election they availed themselves of their new power. It is reported that they "voted well;" as might have been expected, women being born aristocrats. Mad. Kossuth, wife of the great Hungarian leader, died at Genoa lately.

can Savings and Loan Associations make!

When you think of home loans, you probably think of Savings and Loan Associations. That would be natural because they are specialists in mortgages on homes. They originated the modern amortizing home loan—payable monthly, like rent. Many make FHA and VA home loans too.

But did you know that Savings and Loan Associations make many other types of loans? In recent years lending powers have been broadened so now many make loans for:

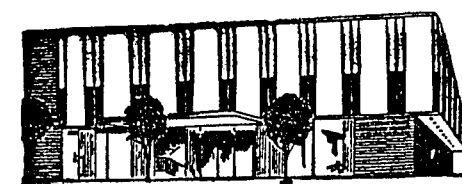

1. Home improvements
2. Apartment buildings
3. Commercial buildings
4. Churches, and private schools
5. Clinics, hospitals, nursing homes
6. Land developments
7. Urban renewal projects
8. College educations

Also, many make "passbook" loans. If you have an account, you may borrow instead of withdrawing your savings. You have the money you need while your savings are still earning. And, the net interest cost is usually less than if you borrowed elsewhere.

As the nation's largest source of home loans, Savings and Loan Associations have always contributed to the growth of the communities they serve. Now, through even wider services, their contributions to the community will be greater than ever.

ILLINOIS OUTLOOK LETTER

CATTLE ON FEED UP 9 PERCENT FROM LAST YEAR

The July Report of Cattle on Feed provides important news for just about everyone. It shows that farmers were fattening 9 percent more cattle for market on July 1 than a year earlier. This makes a pleasant prospect for consumers, but it gives cattlemen some things to ponder.

The USDA report covered 32
minor cattle feeding states.
They had a total of 7,531,000 cattle on feed July 1.

West increases most. As usual, the biggest increases are in the 11 Western States. They had 2,261,000 head in their big feedlots, 14 percent more than last year. California, the leading western state, was up 12 percent.

The 12 North Central States
(midwest) had 4,382,000 cattle on feed, 5 percent more than a year earlier. Iowa, the leading state in cattle feeding, showed an increase of 16 percent. Nebraska, in third place after
California, was up 7 percent.
Illinois, now ranking fourth in cattle feeding, had 6 percent more cattle on feed than a year ago.

Fewer heavy cattle. While the total number of cattle on feed was greater than a year ago, the number of heavy cattle was less. The number of steers weighing over 1,100 pounds was only 313,000, down 27 percent.
The number of heavy heifers,
weighing over 900 pounds, was 183,000, down 7 percent.

The number of steers in this 900- to 1,100-pound class was 1,555,000, only 1 percent more than a year earlier. But heifers to be marketed at about the same time, weighing 700 to 900 pounds on July 1, totaled 1,140,- 000, or 12 percent more than the year before. The total of these steers and heifers was 2,695,000, or 5 percent more than last year.

These figures suggest that market supplies of heavy, well-finished cattle will be moderate during the next 90 days.

More light cattle. The number of steers weighing 700 to 900 pounds, plus heifers weighing 500 to 700 pounds, was 3,088,000, or 13 percent more than last
year.

Steers weighing 500 to 700 pounds, plus the heifer calves under 500 pounds totaled 1,076,- 000 head, 26 percent more than in 1964. Steer calves under 500 pounds totaled 150,000, up 19 percent from a year earlier.

Time on feed. The number of cattle that had been on feed more than 6 months on July 1 was 1,850,000 head, down 1 percent from last year. The number on feed 3 to 6 months was 2,389,000, up only 1 percent. But the number on feed for less than 3 months was 3,292,000, 23 percent more than one year earlier.

Prospective marketings. The reports from the cattle feeders indicated that they would market about 4,346,000 of their cattle during July, August and September. This would be 6 percent more than was marketed in this

SPECIAL TEAL SEASON

HUNTERS IN THE CENTRAL AND MISSISSIPPI FLYWAYS WILL HAVE A SHORT OPEN SEASON ON TEAL IN SEPTEMBER.

BAG LIMITS ARE FOUR A DAY AND EIGHT IN POSSESSION AFTER THE FIRST DAY.

CONSULT YOUR LOCAL STATE OR FEDERAL OFFICER FOR DETAILS.

NO OPEN SEASON IN ALABAMA, TENNESSEE, WISCONSIN AND MONTANA.

Teal, particularly Blue-Winged Teal, are early migrants. Many of them have left this country before the opening of the regular hunting season.

To better understand the population dynamics of these species, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service has opened the Central and Mississippi flyway states to a special season on these birds. Hunters will be contacted for information about their success, and will be asked to send in wings of birds they have taken for analysis.

All hunters must obtain a special federal Teal hunting permit, in addition to any required state hunting license and federal duck stamp. These special permits will be issued free by your state conservation agency upon proper application.

Sportsmen are urged to be positive in their identification of the birds, for Teal, and Teal only, are legal during the special September season.

Cardwell Stops Cubs On 7 Hits For 3-1 Victory

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Don Cardwell scattered seven hits Friday night as the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Chicago Cubs 3-1.

Cardwell, winning his ninth game against five losses, allowed only one runner to reach third base before the Cubs scored in the ninth inning.

Ernie Banks led off the ninth with a single, continued to second when left fielder Willie Stargell let the ball get away from him and scored as Ed Bailey doubled. Cardwell ended the threat by retiring Glenn Beckert and Vic Roznovsky on grounders.

Bob Bailey stole second base twice and scored the Pirates' first two runs. He led off the first inning with a single, stole second and scored on a single by Stargell. In the third, Bailey walked, again stole second and scored on a single by Roberto Clemente.

Aurora Tops Redlegs Pair By 7-0, 3-0

AURORA — The Aurora Sealmasters handed the Jacksonville Redlegs a double loss here Friday night, 7-0 and 3-0, with the second game halted by rain after five innings.

Chuck Richard no-hit the Redlegs in the opening contest, and struck out 13 batters. Bob Hembrough was the only baserunner for the Redlegs, reaching base on an error on the second base man.

With Aurora leading 3-0, the second game was rained out at the end of five. All World pitcher Harvey Sterkle worked the nightcap, but the Redlegs got a pair of hits, singles by Gordon McFarland, following a walk to Fred Curtis in the first, and by Ray Stone in the second.

Sterkle whiffed ten men in his five innings, while Redleg hurler Bob Vinyard got six strikeouts and gave up only two hits in his five frames of work.

The double loss leaves the Redlegs with a 19-25 mark for the season.

SANTANA WHIPS DRYSDALE

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — Manuel Santana crushed Cliff Drysdale of South Africa, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2 Friday and Spain quickly grabbed a 2-0 lead in the final round of the European Zone Davis Cup competition.

The five-match final was rated a toss-up with the experts predicting the winner of the Santana-Drysdale duel, involving the No. 1 players of each team, would advance to the Interzone Final against the winner of this weekend's Mexico-United States encounter.

Minnesota Boosts League Lead By 3-2

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Earl Battey squeezed home Don Mincher with the bases loaded in the eighth inning, giving the Minnesota Twins a 3-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Friday night.

The triumph increased the Twins' American League lead to five games over the Orioles and Cleveland, tied for second.

The Twins loaded the bases against Oriole reliever Dick Hall on Mincher's pinch single. Harmon Killebrew's double and an intentional walk to Bob Allison.

Battey's bunt was punched nearly straight back to the mound, but the lanky Hall couldn't pick it up as he charged to the plate. Hall was charged with an error, but Battey was credited with a sacrifice and a run batted in.

Wine, Callison Slug Homers As Phils Triumph 5-3

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two-run homers by Bobby Wine and John Callison helped Lou Burdette earn his first victory in almost a year Friday night as Philadelphia defeated the New York Mets 5-3.

Burdette, who has lost four this year — two before coming to the Phillies May 30 — last won on Sept. 3, 1964, when he beat Cincinnati for the Chicago Cubs 3-0. The 38-year-old right-hander allowed six hits, walked only one and struck out one in 7 1-3 innings.

Wine, whose error in the first inning helped the Mets to a 1-0 lead, hammered a homer into the upper left-field stands in the second. It was his first of the season and scored Pat Corrales who had walked.

Cookie Rojas, who had three hits, singled in the third, and Callison drove one over the right-field wall for his 23rd of the year.

Howard's Mighty Homer Boosts 3-1 Margin Over KC

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Frank Howard broke a 1-1 tie in the fourth inning with a homer that carried about 500 feet on the fly and the Washington Senators defeated the Kansas City Athletics 3-1 Friday night behind Mike McCormick who gained his fifth victory.

Willie Kirkland drove in a run in the first but Bert Campaneris tied the score in the third with an inside-the-park homer.

Howard hit his awesome home run opening the fourth. The ball was about 50 feet high when it cleared the fence in straightaway center, 421 feet from the plate.

The Senators added another run in the sixth. Willie Kirkland singled and Howard walked. Don Zimmer singled with two away driving in Kirkland.

PASCUAL TO HAVE SURGERY ON CYST

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Camilo Pascual, ailing pitcher ace of the Minnesota Twins, will leave Sunday for Washington D.C., where he will undergo minor surgery Monday morning.

Dr. William Proffitt, Twins team physician, said Pascual's ailment appears to be an infected sebaceous cyst in his right armpit — in lay language, an infected oil gland.

Proffitt said it was possible but not likely to be a lipoma, a fatty tumor.

The surgery will be performed in Doctor's Hospital in Washington by Dr. George Res-ta, longtime friend of Pascual, who diagnosed the ailment last Tuesday.

Pascual, 31, has an 8-3 record but hasn't won a game since June 8. He's on the disabled list for 30 days.

"You could say I'm about 90 per cent certain"

Tigers Tip Sox Again In 3-1 Game

CHICAGO (AP) — Jerry Lumpe's two-out two-run single off ace relief pitcher Edie Fisher in the ninth inning lifted Detroit to a 3-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox Friday night.

Lumpe's winning hit to right field came just after Don Wet-lin had a double play with the bases loaded.

Fisher, now 11-5, came in at the start of the ninth, walked Bill Freehan and gave up singles to Dick McAuliffe and Jack Wood. Wetlin lined to Bill Skowron, who stepped on first for the double play. Lumpe however, singled in Freehan and McAuliffe.

Mosley walked five, two of which led to the only Indian tally of the night. Mosley also suggested a roundtripper to help his own cause.

Mosley's homer came in the second, but the eventual winning run came in the third when Phil Houser walked, to second on a wild pitch and scored on Lynn Crabtree's single.
